Total Lunar Eclipse to Be Visible in Springs

By DICK MOORE

Tonight Colorado Springs residents will have an opportunity, along with the rest of the nation and Canada, to view a total lunar eclipse.

The weather bureau reports there will probably be a light, high layer of clouds in the area of the eclipse which will not obscure the view to a great extent.

The moon will enter the umbra, the earth's dark, inner shadow, at 5:59 p.m. Mountain Standard Time and will be halfway up in the eastern sky at 7:07 p.m., the time of total eclipse.

The middle of the eclipse will occur at 7:37 p.m. The totality will end at 8:07 p.m. and the moon will be out of the umbra at 9:15 p.m.

Tonight will be the last opportunity for region residents to view a total lunar eclipse until April 12, 1968.

A total lunar eclipse phenomenon is a useful vehicle to professional and amateur astronomers engaged in a study of the volume of moon atmosphere.

It is generally agreed that the moon has been unable to retain an atmosphere, but there is some question as to whether craters and pockets on the moon's surface might not con-

Indian Walks Barefoot Through Snow

DICKINSON, N.D. (AP) — A Marmarth, N.D., Indian walked four miles barefoot through the snow during a blizzard and survived the ordeal with only "cold burns" on his hands and feet.

Deadly Crow, 20, abandoned his car when it ran into a ditch about 30 miles southwest of here during the blizzard that raked North Dakota this week.

He set out to seek help but was forced back to his car by the biting wind and subzero cold. He removed his shoes to warm his feet, then couldn't get his shoes back on.

When no help came, he walked to the Sed Koch farm near Amidon, N.D. The farm was snowbound, and it was 36 hours before an ambulance could get through to bring the youth here for treatment.

Crow is in satisfactory condition at a Dickinson hospital.

Mariner Told To Stay With Guiding Star

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 4, a successful explorer but a fickle stargazer, has been ordered to find its guiding star — Canopus —and stay with it.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here said Mariner 4, the Mars-bound U.S. spacecraft, followed instructions radioed to it Thursday from a tracking station at Woomera, Australia. It's back on Canopus, they said.

The craft needs to be positioned so its radio antenna points to earth —so it can send television pictures of Mars next July — and to point it correctly, Mariner must be locked onto the bright star Canopus.

Instead it had been cruising since Dec. 7 locked on Gamma-Vela. Scientists say particles of dust drifting in front of its light sensor may have reflected sunlight and confused Mariner into seeking the wrong star.

Where did the befuddling dust specks come from? Scientists who built Mariner under conditions of laboratory cleanliness think they are either dropping off the exterior of the craft or are traveling along in space with it. Where they came from no one knows.

The motes of dust are about one-third the diameter of a human hair, experts said, but at close range, in sunshine, the specks appear brighter than Canopus — causing Mariner to drop its lock on Canopus and wheel about searching for another source.

The alignment of the radio antenna won't be crucial until Mariner gets much farther along its 7½-month martian journey. In its first 20 days Mariner's busy radios have transmitted to earth millions of

Cold Spell Keeps U.S. in It's Grip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe cold spell gripped much of the nation today, plunging temperatures to below zero in a dozen states and adding snow and freezing rain to stricken areas.

Temperatures were below zero from Washington State to Wisconsin and south to Nebraska. Cold wave warnings were in effect for a 15-state area from Texas to Ohio to Delaware.

Rain fell along a band from the Texas coast to New England. Freezing rain and snow extended from Central Texas through Kentucky to the eastern Great Laks.

In Montana, ranchers estimated livestock losses in the thousands of dollars and the National Guard helped clear snow-clogged roads.

A herd of 1,000 sheep wandering aimlessly in a blizzard crashed through the ice of a lake south of Miles City, Mont. Montana officials said 250,000 calves and 320,00 sheep suffered through the snow and cold in eight disaster-area counties. Ranchers estimated 50 per cent of their herds were lost.

December cold records toppled Thursday, with 38 below zero marks in Butte and Helena. It was 51 below in West Yellowstone, Mont.

Temperatures began a slow rise in Washington State, which has experienced one of its worst prewinter cold spells in history.

The restaurant atop the 600-foot space needle used during the World's Fair in 1962 was closed because fire escapes were covered with ice after water pipes burst from the cold.

The Weather Bureau predicted a 4-inch snowfall for the western part of the state and severe freezing rain other sections.

More than 200 sheep perished in a blizzard in North Dakota Thursday when they jammed up against a fence in 30 below temperature and a driving wind. Some sheep were buried alive.

A high pressure area and cold Arctic air continued to hold Colorado in an icy grip today.

Temperatures on the state's Eastern Slope did not go as low Thursday night as the Weather Bureau had anticipated, however. Denver's low was a —6, Pueblo was 7 below, Colorado Springs 2 below and Trinidad 5 above zero.

The cold, however, moved across the Continental Divide and caused readings to skid on the Western Slope. Fraser recorded a —33 and Alamosa had 24 below Thursday night.

Only traces of snow were reported at mountain stations and the plains received little or none during the night.

The Weather Bureau said the cold air mass had begun to move southward and a general warming trend was expected over the weekend.

All of Colorado's mountain passes were clear and snow-packed today.

Montana Cattle Frozen Still On Icy Range

Editor's Note:

Deep snow and 30 below zero temperatures confront authorities trying to save range cattle in Montana. Jerry Robbins, general manager of Glendive station KXGN-TV, used a four-wheel drive vehicle and a lot of shoveling to reach some cattle mired in four-foot drifts. Here's his story.

By JERRY ROBBINS
(Written for Associated Press)

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP) — The cattle stand unmoving, unseeing, literally frozen still.

The nose and mouth seem frozen shut by ice, but steam from warm breath tells you they still live, if only shortly. You wonder can they last another night of below zero weather without food and some shelter.

The hair is caked with ice and snow. Many cannot see. Some look with one eye. They must have 100 pounds of ice on their backs.

It's a pitiful sight. There's no way to help them.

There is no way to know how extensive the loss of livestock may be. The roads and prairies are clogged with snow. From the air, the cattle, whitened by blizzard ice and snow, blend into the landscape and are lost.

Government agencies are sending heavy equipment to clear paths through the snow, but this may be 72 hours away, and it would be too late.

In one place perhaps 50 head of cattle were stretched along a fence, now broken by the weight of the pressing animals. Twenty-three head were dead.

Those living looked pretty weak. They probably haven't eaten anything since the blizzard Tuesday. There's very little feed out there. Some ridge tops are blown free of snow, but these are crusted by ice. There's little forage on ridges anyway.

The cattle seems to fight the drifts, tire out and die.

There are attempts to hire private contractors to open roads to the cattle. But a lot of these cattle won't make it.

Saigon Police Alerted for More Trouble

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon police went on a full alert today against the possibility of trouble over the weekend from both the Buddhists and the Viet Cong.

Buddhist sources said a monk might commit suicide by burning to spur the lagging Buddhist campaign to overthrow the government of Premier Tran Van Huong. This was the tactic used successfully against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Sunday is the fourth anniversary of the official founding of the National Front for the Liberation of South Viet Nam, the political arm of the Viet Cong. While Viet Cong terror campaigns coincide only occasionally with important Communist

Boy Betrays Cong Father For Candy

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — A 10-year-old boy disclosed the hideout of his father and 15 other Viet Cong guerrillas for candy Thursday.

The child's father was one of 16 Viet Cong fighters whose bodies were found in an intricate tunnel network that was blown up 15 miles north of Saigon. More guerrillas were believed buried in the tunnels.

Given candy bars by a U.S. Army adviser, the boy guided government troops to an entrance to the tunnels stretching under the jungle terrain for hundreds of yards. The Viet Cong were using them as hiding places.

Demolition teams moved in and blew up each entrance with high explosives.

It was the most successful operation held so far against a tunnel area in Viet Nam.

The boy wandered into the

20 Persons Die As Fire Guts Nursing Home

By JAMES R. POLK

FOUNTAINTOWN, Ind. (AP) — Fire roared through a 60-year-old wooden nursing home early today, killing 20 elderly persons.

Fourteen of the 34 patients were rescued in 4-above-zero weather. One nurse saved four.

The two-story building was a converted house.

"We got about 14 out, we're not sure," said C.N. Jeffries, Fountaintown volunteer fire chief. "The whole upstairs was on fire by the time our first truck arrived."

Nine bodies were recovered. Others were trapped in the ruins as the roof collapsed. Only the walls were left.

A stairway fell shortly after the fire erupted, trapping all patients on the second floor.

A staff of two nurses and the Body of British 'Radio Pirate' Washed Ashore

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The body of a Pritish radio pirate washed ashore Thursday night and two of his employes were missing, less than 12 hours after the Dutch shut down a pirate radio-TV station off their coast.

The dead man was Harry Featherbee, a 38-year-old British fisherman who operated Radio Invicta from an abandoned World War II antiaircraft fort off the British oyster town of Whitstable. His body washed ashore in the Thames estuary.

Disc jockey Simon Ashley, 21, and radio engineer David Shaw, 18, were missing.

The three men set out in a 36-foot motor launch in choppy, gale-swept waters from Radio Invicta's island Wednesday. That was the last seen of them until Featherbee's body floated in from the sea. Wreckage from the launch also washed ashore.

Radio Invicta interrupted its usual pop music and jazz this morning to broadcast hymns.

Police said they were investigating the possibility of sabotage, since radio equipment and other boats owned by Featherbee were found damaged earlier this year. There also was speculation the launch had been run down in the fog.

Four Men Killed As Big Tanker Plane Crashes

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A huge Air National Guard tanker plane crashed, exploded and burned on an attempted landing at Greater Southwest International Airport Thursday night, killing 4 of the 11 men aboard.

The seven guardsmen who survived the fiery crash in sub-freezing weather were taken to Parkland Hospital in Dallas. Authorities said none was believed seriously injured.

Their KC97, a prop-driven craft, cracked up at the south end of the airport, which is midway between Dallas and Fort Worth. Fire units battled 2½ hours to douse the flame.

The plane, from the 136th Air Refueling Group at Hensley Field in the Dallas suburb of Grand Prairie, was on a four-hour training mission.

Air Force spokesmen said the tanker apparently hit an embankment on a practice approach and this ripped away the landing gear.

Flames shot out 300 yards. Pieces of the plane, including its four engines, were scattered across a wide section.

The Air Force identified the dead as:

M. Sgt. Roy R. Sypert, 33, of Hurst, Tex.

M. Sgt. Robert E. Weeks, 26, of Arlington, Tex.

T. Sgt. Emil J. Trojacek, 29, of Dallas.

S. Sgt. Charles W. Elmore, 30, of Dallas.

Maple Leaf Flag Is Approved by Canadian Senate

OTTAWA (AP) — A maple leaf flag should be flying over Canada's 10 provinces by Christmas, as promised by Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson in his campaign against French-Canadian separatism.

The Senate voted 38-23 Thursday night for the red and white maple leaf banner. The House of Commons approved the new flag Tuesday. Only a routine proclamation by Queen Elizabeth II is needed to make the flag official.

It will have a single red maple leaf on a white background, flanked by two red panels. King George V, Queen Elizabeth's grandfather, proclaimed three maple leaves the emblem of Canada in 1921.

Since that time Canadian servicemen have worn the emblem as a shoulder patch on their uniforms. However, servicemen's organizations joined members of the Conservative

'They Are Not Going to Push Me Out,' Barry Says

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater was described by close associates today as saying angrily that the drive against Dean Burch is really aimed at him and critics are not going to push me out of the Republican party."

The defeated GOP presidential nominee told influential Republicans who talked to him at his Phoenix home recently he is solidly behind Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican national committee. Burch's ouster has been sought by some elements of the party, including a majority of the 18 GOP governors and governors-elect.

Burch returned to Washington Thursday night after a conference in Phoenix with Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller for New York, who ran for vice president. The national chairman said after the conference he has no intention of resigning before a showdown vote of confidence before the national committee Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Today he turns his attention to a meeting with the party's finance committee to take up the 1965 budget.

Leaders who have talked to Goldwater describe the Republican nominee as an angry man who believes that he rallied all of the party conservatives in getting more than 26 million votes. Goldwater was said to be determined that Burch should not be ousted because he feels it would be repudiation of him personally.

Burch was hand-picked for his post by Goldwater.

Although congressional leaders had discounted the controversy over the chairmanship, Goldwater was depicted as feeling it is a test of whether these people are going to push me out of the party."

And Miller said the only grounds for removing Burch now is not his performance but because he is a symbol of Gold-

Blind Woman Regains Vision After 17 Years

DALLAS (AP) — Friends disclosed Thursday that a blind woman has regained her vision after 17 years, apparently from bumping her head on a cupboard door.

The woman, declining to be quoted by name, told a Dallas Times Herald reporter:

"I feel that it is a gift from God and I do not want it publicized. It is a gift which might be taken away."

Friends gave this account:

The woman, in her 60s, stooped to pick something off the floor while doing housework, rose and banged her head sharply against the open cupboard door.

She cried out. A daughter next door heard the cry via their intercom system and ran to investigate, still clutching a can of cleanser in one hand.

"What a pretty can," the mother remarked, and both suddenly realized she could see again.

Since losing sight, the woman had learned to read braille and had adjusted to living alone and taking care of herself. She was forced to give up teaching music.

An eye specialist said there was no way of determining whether blindness might return.

"These things do somtimes happen," he said. "I cannot tell you how long it will last."

Four Die in Convalescent Home Fire

WINFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Four maintenance employes of the Du Page County Convalescent Home were killed today in a fire which destroyed their quarters in a cottage on the institution's grounds.

Two other county home employes and a fireman were injured.

Some 50 firemen from Winfield and Wheaton, about 25 miles west of Chicago, fought the blaze in zero weather. The main buildings of the home which housed 169 elderly persons were not threatened.

NORAD Stages Exercise of Advance Alert

The continent-wide forces of the North American Air Defense Command went on an advanced alert Thursday at 12 noon (MST).

The alert was part of a world-wide exercise called by the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Canadian Chief of the Defense Staff.

It lasted only one hour but sent headquarters staffs throughout Canada and the United States, as well as overseas commands, scurrying to their battle staff positions to meet an aggressor force which existed only on paper. Global in scope, the exercise was designed to test the reaction time of military forces at the command level. Frequent exercises of this nature are instituted without notice.

No forces were moved during the exercise, but many reams of paper in the form of post-exercise reports might be created to show why a lag existed if a command staff was slow to react. The important aspect of such exercises is to detect such weaknesses while they are still of a relatively harmless nature.

The short duration cleared the air for NORAD's annual high-priority task of tracking a reindeer-pulled sleigh originating in the vicinity of the North Pole on Christmas Eve.

Tiny Radio Transmitter Is Developed for Mouse

By FRAN CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hickory, dickory, doc — for mice a commuter's clock!

Scientists reported today they have developed a tiny radio transmitter — smaller than an inch-cube of cheese — for insertion beneath a mouse's skin.

The signal-sending gadget is designed to allow remote-control tracking of a mouse's movements — especially how swiftly he heads to his next spot when he finds himself in unfamiliar territory.

The researchers reported some surprising findings about the homing behavior of the rodents — findings which presumably would be helpful in any scientific mouse-eradication program.

For one thing, it seems mice rival pigeons in their ability to navigate directly back home.

Biologists Kenneth S. Rawson and Peter H. Hartline of Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania, came up with the mouse news in a report in the Technical Journal of Science, official weekly of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. They gave this account:

Previous attempts to study the homing behavior of mice involved releasing them some distance from their nests and then timing the interval up to their recapture in traps placed near their homes.

But such techniques had drawbacks: for one thing, night-prowling mice usually enter traps only at night, "and may spend one or more days in the home area without entering available traps."

Thus, the fastest homing speed clocked by the older methods was only about 30 yards an hour — and, as every cat knows, mice can really step much faster than that.

The scientists figured that perhaps mice meander before heading home.

So they rigged the transistorized radio device, which weighs a fraction of an ounce, and tuned in on a field mouse sporting one beneath the skin of his back.

The test vindicated the mouse as a home-lover.

Loosed at around 11 o'clock at night in a strange area more than 300 yards from its known "home," the mouse prowled around the launching pad for about a half hour — presumably trying to get its bearings.

Then it gunned homeward — traveling the 300 yards in hour, or 10 times as fast as the old apparent record.

Berkeley Will Try to Solve Speech Issue

By GENE HANDSAKER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — University of California regents meet on the UCLA campus today to try and decide the free speech issue that has wracked the Berkeley campus for nearly three months.

In that period, four massive demonstrations have been held at Berkeley. One, an all-night sit-in Dec. 3 at the administration building, led to the arrest of 814 persons, including 590 students and about 50 teaching assistants.

The controversy is over a recently revised university policy that permits freedom of speech and political activity on the campus but forbids such speech or activity if it would result in illegal off-campus action, such as civil disobedience demonstrations.

Students opposing the policy say illegal off-campus acts should be left to civil authorities and to police, not the university or the regents.

While regents began their two-day meeting Thursday, discussing routine items, about 300 students attended a noon rally in a UCLA campus area, Hyde Park, set aside for public speaking.

Of these, 100 took part in a march past the administration building in which the regents were meeting.

Later, 50 to 75 students sat down outside the building.

Half a dozen speakers, both students and faculty members, addressed the Hyde Park rally. Most protested the 10-1 vote of the UCLA Academic Senate to support present university policy.

Edward Carter, chairman of the regents, acknowledged that the problem is complicated and said he has "no idea" what course the board will take.

Support had developed both on and off campus for a change favored by the Berkeley Faculty Senate: Give the students freedom on campus to collect funds for civil rights work in the South and let the faculty instead of the administration control student discipline.

Rodeo Group Elects Officers

The Rocky Mountain Professional Rodeo Management Association held its annual meeting on Saturday, December 12, at the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver. Willard Simms, general manager of the National Western Stock Show, was re-elected president.

Cheddy Thompson, executive director of the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo, is secretary - treasurer. The three vice presidents elected in order, were — J. E. Roney, of Boulder; Ken Roberts, of Rapid City, and Jim Roush, of Douglas, Wyoming.

A major part of the meeting was used to discuss proposed rule changes with Bill Linderman, executive secretary of the Rodeo Cowboy's Association. The RMPRM group will forward its recommendations, pro or con, to the RCA board of directors, at its annual convention in January, at Denver.

The RMPRM Association is a group of men and women made up of Rodeo Committeemen and Stock Contractors, to promote and assist in Rodeo Management problems.

Cheddy Thompson was recently re-elected for a three year term, to the board of directors of the International Rodeo Management Association, at its annual Convention in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Soviet Premier Plans To Visit Britain

LONDON (UPI)—Alexei Kosygin, the new Soviet premier, will come to London "in the new year" for talks with Britain's Labor government, prime Minister Harold Wilson announced here.

Wilson, in a major foreign policy statement before the House of Commons, said Kosygin "has accepted my invitation to visit London for talks in the new year."

The visit was expected to be Kosygin's first abroad since he took over from ousted Premier Nikita Khrushchev Oct. 15—the same day Wilson's Labor party was elected to power.

Reporter Tells How It Feels To Play Santa

EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press Writer Jim Lamb spent nearly four hours as a sidewalk Santa Wednesday night collecting for the Volunteers of America, a charitable organization. Persons of all ages but especially children, stopped to visit with Santa. Here is his report.

By JIM LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — As the only sidewalk Santa in the City of Brotherly Love I got requests as varied as "Please, Santa, want a little puppy," from a little girl to "Hey, Santa, want a drink?" from a man old enough to know better.

Outfitted with red suit, fake boots, a fake chimney, a nerve-jangling bell and surely the scratchiest beard in Philadelphia, I spent nearly four hours as one of Santa's helpers collecting for the Volunteers of America.

Because of recent staff changes, the Volunteers decided not to put out any Santa's helpers this year. But they readily agreed to lend their Santa paraphernalia.

The kids looked right past the ill-fitting suit, the fake boots and even a slipping bear. This was Santa and they loved him.

The first man to speak hurried past and called, "Hey Santa, bring me a new car." A news dealer, lugging an armful of newspapers, said, "All I want, Santa, is a new girl." Most of the adults smiled and many waved. One man repeated the old gag: "I hear you have three gardens, Santa, so you can hoe, hoe, hoe."

One girl broke away from her parents and came over. "I'm Cynthia. Can I feel your beard? It scratches."

Another girl came over and asked about the reindeer. She talked about her new dress, her baby brother, her loose tooth, and then as her mother tried to pull her away, she leaned over close to say: "Please, Santa, I want a little puppy."

There were some problems. I nearly got cramps in my right arm ringing that bell. Then my left arm got tired.

Every time I switched hands, my beard got tangled in the bell.

A polite, but firm, policeman came by and asked for credentials. When told everything had been cleared with the district headquarters he replied, "I hope so, because if it isn't you're going to jail." He came back after a call to headquarters. No arrest was made.

Many people gave me as wide a berth as possible, looking the other way purposely. Often, when anyone did stop to drop a coin in the fake chimney, he looked embarrassed.

Total collection for the evening, $9.66 — and one toy dart.

As my feet got colder, the warming sounds of revelry from a nearby tavern sounded inviting. Several men came out and offered a drink. The Volunteers of America has a list of dos and don'ts for Santas, including: "Do not leave your chimney unattended," and "Do not, eat, smoke or drink while on duty."

Then, just before I put away the clanging bell and fake chimney a girl ran over and with a big hug said:

"I love you, Santa."

TOKYO (AP) — The 535-ton Japanese trawler Uji Maru with a crew of 33 is believed lost in the South Atlantic Ocean off Portuguese Angola.

The ship's owner, the Japan Marine Products Co., said the trawler's skipper messaged a sister vessel Dec. 10 but has not been heard from since.

Cambodian Prince Is Losing Interest

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk said today he is not interested in resuming the suspended Cambodian-American talks at New Delhi.

"It was amply demonstrated that the systematic bad faith and lack of good will caused, and will continue to cause, an obstacle to any just and equitable solutions," the Cambodian chief of state said in a statement.

The talks broke up Thursday after nine days. The U.S. negotiators said they had to return to Washington for consultations, but chief negotiator Philip Bonsal said he hoped the talks would resume.

Pope Asks Buddhists, Catholics, to Cooperate

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has issued an appeal for Buddhists and Roman Catholics to cooperate. It was believed he had South Viet Nam in mind.

Vatican sources said the Roman Catholic pontiff, at a private audience Thursday with Riri Nakayam, president of the Asia Buddhist Federation, urged "all Buddhists and Catholics to cooperate, especially in certain zones where the two communities live together and are confronted with the same problems."

South Viet Nam has been the area of most serious conflict between Catholics and Buddhists.

During the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Catholic, the Buddhists accused the Catholics of persecuting them. Since Diem's overthrow, the Catholics have accused the Buddhists of persecuting them.

LOSES SUIT

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A rooster's owners, sued for an alleged attack by the fowl, have something to crow about today.

The suit for $10,000 damages was resolved Thursday by a jury in favor of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Moulyet.

A neighbor, Mrs. Daisy Oates, had sued the Maulyets contending that the rooster attacked her. She said she suffered a broken wrist.

BRADLEY SELECTED

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bill Bradley, All - America basketball player at Princeton and member of the United States Olympic team, was chosen by Missouri as a candidate for a Rhodes scholarship.

Bradley, a native of Crystal City, Mo., would go to Oxford University in England to study if he gets the scholarship.

Nat King Cole Is Treated For Lung Tumor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nat (King) Cole — one of popular music's greatest stars — is receiving cobalt treatments for a tumor in one lung.

The fact that the 45-year-old singer is seriously ill was disclosed Wednesday by his physicians. They declined to say whether the tumor is malignant.

When Cole was admitted to St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica Dec. 9 his illness was termed a respiratory ailment.

His physicians — Dr. Robert Kositchek and Dr. Elmer Rigby — said Cole would be able to go home in about 10 days, just after Christmas.

They added: "We have also advised Mr. Cole that his professional engagements for the next few months must be canceled to allow time for his full recuperation."

They said "the medical prognosis is optimistic."

The first inkling of Cole's illness came when he was forced to cancel a few remaining days of an engagement at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas.

The gravity of his illness became more apparent last Thursday when it was announced he would not be able to appear as star of the first popular music concert at Los Angeles' new Music Center. Frank Sinatra substituted.

Nat Cole's inimitable singing style has kept him a best-seller in the record business for over 20 years. He is also one of the top earners in the music world, often averaging $400,000 a year.

He was born Nathaniel Dams Coles March 17, 1919, in Montgomery, Ala. his father was minister of the First Baptist church, and Nat learned music at the church piano.

The Coles family moved to Chicago, where Nat played his first professional dates in a 14-piece orchestra that earned a total of $1.50 a night. Nat played longhair as well as pop, and later remarked: "what style I have owes a lot to the classics."

Cole came to California with a musical revue that folded — and stayed on to play in night clubs around Los Angeles. In one of them a patron put a tinsel crown on his head and dubbed him "The King." The billing stuck.

In 1943, Cole, who had shortened his name, was signed by Capitol Records on the strength of the song, "Straighten Up and Fly Right."

Since then he has sold millions of records, including such hits as "Nature Boy," "Mona Lisa," "Unforgettable," "Too Young," and that holiday favorite — "Christmas Song."

'Public Interest' Is Hard to Define Phrase

By SAM CAMPBELL

Howard Hughes owns 78 per cent of the stock of Trans World Airlines. He borrowed some money and assigned control to persons designated by the lenders. Now according to what you read in the papers, he is prepared to pay what he owes, maybe he already has paid, and he wants his company back.

So far so good.

But it happens that the TWA management doesn't want to surrender control of the airline, and it claims reasons for so doing.

Again, so far so good.

So the dispute winds up in court. It goes to the Second District Court of Appeals. The court rules against Hughes.

For the third time, so far so good — at least, from the standpoint of the TWA managers if not from Hughes. Why should you and I care? It's only a half billion or so. He has plenty more.

The bug in the saucer pertains to the basis for the appeals court's ruling. In a unanimous opinion, the court held — according to United Press International — that when the Civil Aeronautics Board had decided previously in favor of Hughes the board had failed to take into consideration the "public interest."

That phrase "public interest," precisely what does it mean? On the surface, it seems to mean this: that two parties come to grips in a court of law; each has a stake in the outcome; but in addition to the two parties in the case, there is an unnamed third party called "the public" which also has something to gain or something to lose in the lawsuit.

Who is this third party called the "public"? Is it you? Do you own any TWA stock? I'll assure you, it isn't I. So who is it.

And what is the nature of the third interest that supposedly is involved? If Hughes wins, it doesn't make a whoop of difference to me. Nor will I cry myself to sleep if he loses. How about you?

Yet the court says I have an interest. Why does the court insist I have an interest? I have a sneaking suspicion. I suspect that the term "public interest" actually refers to nothing at all, that it is only a panholder that the bureaucra uses when he the bureaucrat uses when he passes somebody else's pie to a brother bureaucrat.

For I have seen that phrase "public interest" used at least a hundred times. And I bet you have, too. Yes, and I have asked the professor types, and attorney types, and the big business bureaucrat types who use it what the phrase means. To date, no one has even attempted to answer.

Now the contest is wide open. Any attorney, any bureaucrat large or small, any supervisor, planning commissioner, judge, justice, injustice, dogcatcher, mosquito abater, senator, president, or U. N. ambassador is herewith challenged to define the phrase.

If anyone, ANYONE, from Earl Warren on down to the rest of us peons, can define "public interest" I'll print his answer right here in this space free of charge. This is the first offer. Same will be renewed from time to time.

Firemen Have Busy Workout Thursday

Company No. 2 of the Fire Department had a workout Thursday afternoon and night. At 3:25 p.m. the No. 2 firemen went to 20 W. San Miguel St., but the alarm was only a cafe of steam being mistaken for smoke.

Before these firemen got back to the station, at 3:37 p.m., Company 4 made a run to 2907 Greenwood Circle. The trouble there was a short circuit in electrical wiring. There was no fire.

At 1:07 a.m. today Company 2 went to the 1300 block on the North Freeway, but had no fire to fight.

At 3:39 a.m. today Company 2 and the Company 1 rescue squad went to 412 E. Yampa St., where Guy McDaniels had suffered a heart attack. An inhalator was used.

Boy Betrays Cong Father For Candy

government troops operating near the village of Paris Tan Quy Wednesday evening. The operation was about to end, but the boy, happily sucking on a candy bar given to him by the U.S. adviser, began telling Vietnamese officers how he could dismantle a machine gun and make grenades.

He gave them a practical demonstration, taking an American carbine apart and putting it together again.

He also said the Viet Cong paid him about 30 cents a month for making grenades.

The boy then started talking about the tunnels in the area where he lived. He said his father lived in them. Next morning, given more candy bars, he showed the troops where his father lived.

They didn't tell him later that his father was dead.

holidays, it was felt the Reds might have major plans for this weekend.

Viet Cong propaganda activity in Saigon has risen sharply.

Buddhist headquarters in Saigon, a dusty, sprawling compound of shacks, looked like a command post this week. Monks and organizers carrying brief cases rushed in and out; the jangling of telephones in the offices drowned out the temple gongs.

More than a dozen Buddhists reportedly have volunteered for immolation. Rumors said burnings might take place in front of the U.S. embassy, in front of the presidential palace or at a Buddhist headquarters.

A Buddhist spokesman said: "We may be forced to take extreme measures if the government continues its persecution."

At Buddhist headquarters leaflets were circulated summoning Buddhists Saturday for an all-night rally against the government. A Buddhist spokesman said a huge public hunger strike would be held at the headquarters Sunday, capping two such strikes in the past week by groups of monks and nuns.

Buddhist leaders warned a crowd at the headquarters Thursday night that the government might attack the compound and arrest leading monks. Government leaders have said privately they would arrest the Buddhist leaders if they appear to be leading a major insurrection but this would be avoided if at all possible.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor conferred Thursday night with Premier Huong on the situation, but there was no word of what was said. One cabinet minister resigned under Buddhist pressure Wednesday. Three others reportedly have submitted their resignations, but Huong has refused to accept them.

Communist North Viet Nam meanwhile was preparing for a celebration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of its army, which drove the French from Indochina.

Ship Captain, Wife Swept to Their Deaths

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — An Australian captain and his wife who kept a two-week vigil aboard their stranded freighter were swept to their deaths as they abandoned ship.

They were Capt. H. V. Blomberg, 50, and his wife.

Their ship, the 5,000-ton ore carrier Union Pacific, was headed for Naha Dec. 3 when it went aground on an offshore coral reef. Jagged rock sliced through the hull.

Experts said only the reef was keeping the ship up and it would sink if moved. The ship's Chinese crewmen were taken off, but the Blombergs remained aboard to ward off looters and salvagers.

Thursday morning, 45-knot winds from Typhoon Opal, now lingering in the southern Ryukyus, began hammering the helpless hulk. Blomberg signalled that he wished to be taken to safety.

A rescue craft reached the freighter, owned by the Union Navigation Co. of Hong Kong, and lines were rigged.

As the couple were being lowered in heavy seas to the rescue vessel, a huge wave swallowed Blomberg.

Cold Spell Keeps U.S. In Its Grip

Snow closed three highways in Southwestern Dakota.

A young Marmarth, N.D., indian abandoned his car near Dickinson, N.D., where the vehicle plunged into a ditch. He removed his shoes to massage his freezing feet in subzero cold, then couldn't get his shoes back on. He walked four miles barefoot and was hospitalized for frostbite.

Extreme cold struck Nebraska, Southern Idaho, Utah, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Delaware in Michigan's copper country reported 100 inches of snow for the season, the greatest amount recorded in the area in almost 85 years. Last year at this time, only 5 inches had fallen.

Cold weather, rain and snow hit the Northeast.

Sleet and freezing rain struck Northwestern Pennsylvania and a cold front dumped th etemperature into the teens.

Temperatures were at the zero mark in Northern New England.

Even the Southwest didn't escape the cold atack. The coldest December day on record occurred in Oklahoma City Thursday with a reading of 7.

Deaths

TORONTO, Canada (AP) — Dr. Clarence Meredith Hincks, 79, who founded the Canadian Mental Health Association, died of cancer Thursday.

LINGFIELD, England (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Cecil Cooper, 82, former Anglican bishop of Korea, died Thursday.

MOSCOW (AP) — Sergei I. Ozhegov, 65, editor of two of Russia's most widely used dictionaries, died, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said Thursday.

20 Persons Die As Fire Guts Nursing Home

operator of the home escaped.

A nurse's aid, Fanny Wicker, in her 60s, said:

"The fire broke out apparently in a linen closet in a first floor hall. We weren't able to reach anyone upstairs because flames immediately blocked the stairway.

"We smelled smoke, then Frances (the second nurse) saw it and screamed, 'Oh God, Fanny, there's a fire!

"One (patient) fell in the kitchen. I picked her up and dragged her out. I dragged three more out, then they wouldn't let me go back in."

All the rescued patients were taken to Major Hospital in Shelbyville. None was reported in serious condition.

Fire units from a 25-mile radius rushed into this hamlet, 15 miles southeast of Indianapolis. About 50 firemen fought the blaze. The home was about 200 yards from the Fountaintown fire station.

Officials said most of the patients were from Eastern Indiana. They said records were destroyed and it would take some time to identify the dead.

Firemen were hampered by lack of water. They broke ice on Brandywine Creek, a half mile east, to fill pumper trucks.

The survivors were taken to the hospital in ambulances and private cars that ringed the home to aid the injured.

Items Worth $970 Taken In Burglary

Burglars escaped with more than $970 in goods from a local music store after they had broken a window to gain entrance, police reported.

An employe of Dick Jurgens High Fidelity, 530 S. Tejon St., was awakened by police at 7:30 a.m. after they had discovered the front door of the shop standing open and the building burglarized. The employe said he had slept in the back room all night, for which he had the owner's permission, and he hadn't heard anything after 12 p.m.

Two TV sets, a tape recorder and a playback system were taken. Listed total value of the stolen items is $977.50, according to police. The thieves also damaged a tape recorder valued at $369, when they apparently knocked it to the floor.

RECEIVING ANNUAL AWARD—Mrs. Andrew Marshall, Jr., listens attentively as she is presented with the Pikes Peak Sertoma Club's annual Service to Mankind Award. Presenting the plaque is Walter Baker, Jr., past president of the club.

Mrs. Marshall Honored by Sertoma Club

Mrs. Andrew Marshall Jr., 1329 Wood Ave., has received the Pikes Peak Sertoma Club's annual Service to Mankind Award for "her tireless efforts to improve the conditions and lives of the retarded children and adults of the community."

Mrs. Marshall came to Colorado Springs in 1950 and has been active since that time in such organizations as the Fine Arts Center, Grace Episcopal Church, Colorado State HistoricalSociety, the League of Women Voters, the Institute of International Education, the Women's Educational Society of Colorado College, and many others.

It partially was through her efforts that the merger of Hope House School for Retarded Children and the Crippled Children's Association became a reality in December, 1960.

She was also instrumental in the formation of Pike Peak Interagency Inc., which helped obtain a $32,500 grant from the Department of Institutions for the purchase of services from various agencies for retarded children.

Currently she is serving on the boards of the Pikes Peak Mental Health Center. The Mental Health Association and the Visiting Nurse Association.

Redistricting Is Passed by Lame Ducks

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Republicans have shoved through their congressional redistricting plan in a whirlwind of activity that all but tied the ribbon on the lame duck special session of the Ohio Legislature.

Final legislative action came Thursday night in the Ohio Senate by a vote of 18-13. All Democratic senators opposed the plan that will revise Ohio's present 23 districts and add a 24th.

The vote came about an hour after the House accepted the same conference committee report 72-42. Republicans in the lower chamber mustered three votes more than the required majority of 69.

Leaders of the special session which began Nov. 9 ordered a recess until Dec. 29 when the lawmakers will return for a cleanup session.

Democrats fought the redistricting plan on the charge that the GOP majorities — both of which will be reduced at the regular session next month — shaped it to favor Republican candidates.

The special session called by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes took up redistricting and legislative reapportionment — passed earlier — following the one-man one-vote ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The legislative reapportionment proposal will be placed before the voters next May as a constitutional amendment.

Redistricting was handled as a regular bill.

FLAILED WITH A FEATHERY WEAPON

PLANT CITY, Fla. (AP) — It was a feathery assault.

Patrolman A. H. Hawkins reported that he had investigated a Plant City woman's complaint that she was assaulted by her husband. His report quoted the woman that her husband struck her when she refused to tell him who she was talking with on the telephone.

Under weapon used, Hawkins listed: "a pillow."

party in a vigorous campaign against abandonment of the flag under which they had gone into battle in two world wars — the red ensign, which has the Union Jack in the upper left quadrant.

Although never proclaimed the national flag, it has been accepted internationally as such since a Liberal government in 1944 ordered it flown over all government buildings.

In a move to appease those still faithful to the Union Jack, the House of Commons by a vote of 182-25, approved Thursday a proposal to fly the Union Jack also as a symbol of allegiance to the crown and membership in the commonwealth.

At one time, Pearson said the fate of his Liberal party's control rode with the maple leaf.

Behind Pearson's drive for the new flag was his desire to placate French-speaking Quebec. A move to break away from English-speaking Canada also has developed in Quebec, and there were demonstrations in Quebec City last October during the visit of Queen Elizabeth.

Conservatives in Commons led the singing of "Rule Britannia" when the Union Jack motion was approved Thursday night. There was no emotional outburst in the Liberal-controlled Senate when the maple leaf was approved.

Dr. King Says Dixie Solons to Be Challenged

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., winner of this year's Nobel Peace Prize, says support is growing for a challenge of the right of Mississippi's representatives to sit in Congress.

The civil rights leader, who was scheduled to meet with President Johnson this afternoon, made the statement Thursday in New York upon his return from Norway, where he accepted the prize.

King, who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told a Harlem rally he was "gravely distressed" over the recent dismissal of charges against persons arrested in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers in Mississippi last summer.

King wouldn't say which congressmen support the challenge of their Mississippi colleagues. It was filed about two weeks ago by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

"But we have a good deal of growing support," he said. The challenge is based on the theory that Mississippi congressmen do not represent the true choice of the state's citizens because Negroes are often denied the right to vote.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner gave King the city's medallion and made three speeches praising him in the course of the day.

Two other dignitaries who praised King were Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey, and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

King announced he would give $12,000 of his Nobel prize money to his own organization, $17,000 to other civil rights groups, and earmark the remaining $25,000 for a special fund to further education in the cause of non-violence.

Total Lunar Eclipse to Be Visible in Springs

tain very small amounts of air.

Tonight such students will train telescopes on the lunar surface, watching for small flashes of light. Such flashes could indicate the trail of burning meteors, ignited by friction contact with such small patches of air.

Such phenomenon, similar to that viewed in our own skies, would be indicative that the moon does possess an atmosphere of sorts.

Astronomers will watch closely for another phenomenon tonight which occurred during the last two lunar eclipses; namely changes in color.

Astronomers reported to the Sky and Telescope publication that during the last two eclipses large reddish patches were observed inside the shadow and the rim of the umbra took on a peculiar bluish tint.

The cause of the color projection is unknown but several scientists have advanced the theory that the cause could have been in the earth's atmosphere.

During the eclipse of June 24 of this year the earth's atmosphere was clouded by smoke and ash from the great eruption of a volcano on the island of Bali in Indonesia.

water. This party is not going to become a strong party by kicking Sen. Goldwater out."

The view that the drive against Burch is really directed at Goldwater was challenged by Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Governors Association.

Nobody's trying to kick Senator Goldwater out," said Smylie Thursday in Boise, but there are some people trying to get in."

Smylie, who advocates Burch's dismissal, said: What we need is a party that excludes nobody and includes everyone. This is what Mr. Burch's leadership can't give us. This is why he should go."

Business Will Be Fine, Say Auto Companies

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The three major auto companies agree that business will continue fine in 1965, with Ford Motor Co. the most optimistic.

Henry Ford II told his annual year-end news conference Tuesday that car and truck sales in the United States next year might reach 10.1 million vehicles.

A day earlier, Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend said 1965 car and truck sales would total at least 9.5 million and could exceed 10 million.

Frederic G. Donner, chairman of the board of General Motors — largest of the auto makers — said Sunday that 1965 sales could surpass this year's expected total of 9.2 million.

The big difference between the Ford board chairman and Donner was in their estimate of the 1965 domestic car market. Donner said it could exceed 7.8 million units Ford predicted it would reach 8.7 million. Townsend's figure was about 8 million.

Ford, asked to explain the wide difference between his projection and that of General Motors, replied:

"The 8.7 million figure is a very realistic one as far as I am concerned. I am quite optimistic. I don't know what influenced Mr. Donner's conclusions."

The Ford chairman, as Chrysler and General Motors did earlier, expressed confidence that the industry would maintain its growth pattern. He said about $700 million of the company's three-year $1.6-billion expansion and modernization plan would be spent in 1965, compared to $465 million this year.

Ford emphasized labor matters more than the other two auto makers, mentioning recent local strikes which cost Ford about 130,000 cars and trucks from its production schedules.

Ford said he did not question the right of the United Auto Workers, or other unions, to strike but added: "I am questioning the excessive bargaining power of unions and their abuse of this power."

Ford said the two-week local strikes at many Ford plants, with resultant layoffs because of parts shortages, cost Ford about $250 million. Key suppliers lost a like amount, he said.

He pointed out that the local strikes were called "after we had agreed to the largest national settlement in the history of our relationship with the United Auto Workers Union."

Of over-all business conditions, he said:

"The keystone to our present prosperity, I believe, is the decision, reflected in the tax cut, to rely less on government spending and more on the powerful forces of private enterprise."

Ford said if the 10 per cent excise tax on new cars is cut the the consumer."

Widow of Iraq King Gets Share of Estate

NEW YORK (AP) — Genevieve Arnault, widow of King Faisal II of Iraq, will get two-thirds of the more than $111,000 he left in the United States.

The blonde Miss Arnault last year won a suit to be declared the legal widow of the king, who was assassinated in 1958. Surrogate Samuel Di Falco awarded her $73,708 as her share of Faisal's America estate Thursday.

TV Commercials Also Need Careful Plans

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers probably are not aware of it, but television commercials are carefully planned so that they do not run afoul of assorted federal regulations and the industry's own code of good practice and network policies.

The current issue of the National Association of Broadcasters magazine contains a sample television script for a commercial which contains just about every violation of the rules.

The scene is a newsroom with teletype machines, an American flag and picture of President Johnson in the background. All are forbidden — use of simulated news, the flag or the picture in a sales pitch.

Then it moves to a shot of men dressed in white: actors pretending to be doctors or nurses are strictly forbidden. The unhappy-looking announcer swallows a pill and a smile of relief instantly appears on his face as he claims that it "cured" him. Words like "cure" and "miracle" and phony endorsements like this all are outlawed.

So is another scene in which the announcer throws competitive products into a wastebasket labeled "ineffective." This ban comes under the heading of "derogation of a competitor's product."

At another point the announcer declared his medicinal product is "guaranteed safe." This is forbidden because a guarantee is a specific, rather than general, term and its terms must be set forth. And "safe" is misleading when, in the fine print on some household remedy, there is a caution about over-use.

This horror of a commercial was written by Frederick Bechtold, an NBC attorney, to illustrate some of the danger areas writers of commercisls must avoid. It also included irreverence unnecessary use of the diety's name, lack of proper sponsor identification, use of photographs of real U.S. stamps and currency.

Program-switching, instituted by CBS, seems to be catching. ABC now proposes to move its cartoon show, "The Flintstones" out of the early Thursday evening spot, where it is suffering from competition from CBS' "The Munsters," and put it at the head of its Friday night lineup. "Jonny Quest," another animated show which has not done well in its first season, will go into the period. The swap starts the day before Christmas.

NBC, also having ratings trouble with Saturday evening's "Mr. Magoo," will move it back a half hour on Jan. 2, to give "Kentucky Jones" the advantage of the youthful audience "lead-in" from the popular "Flipper."

Singer Abbe Lane Weds Movie Agent

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Abbe Lane, who divorced band leader Xavier Cugat in Mexico June 3, was married Wednesday night to Hollywood agent Perry Leff in a full-dress ceremony at the Hotel Plaza.

It was also Leff's second marriage. The couple planned to leave today for a European honeymoon.

Steel Mills Turn Out Ingots At Record Rate

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — While steel workers and management argue over how to divide the profits, the mills turn out the ingots at a near record rate. And this is a major factor in pushing industrial production back on the high road after the auto strike forced it to the low road in October.

The car production lines also are back performing at a record clip. So the nation seems sure to enter the new year with its industrial index continuing its long climb to new heights, after only a passing bobble.

The steel and auto industries play a commanding role in the industrial output total. They both reflect and increase general prosperity. And the public has become used to considering times good or bad on the evidence of activity at the car plants and the steel mills.

Their busy production lines feed general prosperity with money for wages and materials. And in return good times feeds the demand for their products.

In steel the long run of high production seems assured, by the backlog of orders, to extend through the first months of 1965.

The problems have become delivery times and in some cases even allotments, and the hard bargaining sessions just starting between the United Steelworkers Union and the major companies.

The wage talks themselves are helping swell the demand for steel. Many customers are planning to build up inventories against the risk of a strike next May cutting off supplies and also against the possibility of higher prices as a result of gains the unions may make in wage scales or fringe benefits.

All fall the mills have been turning out more than 2.6 million tons each week. Not since early 1960 have the mills keps up that high a rate for so long a time.

They have turned out more than 120.5 million tons so far this year, against 105 million tons in the same period last year. And they already have beaten the old record of 117 million tons for a whole year, set in 1955.

Most of the output has gone to fill the real demands of their customers, as apart from any strike-hedging buildup of stocks.

The customers have been booming for the most part, too. The auto industry, except for the crippling strike, was ready to set a record this year, and now talks confidently of producing eight million cars in 1965. The construction industry has been expanding, and taking more steel despite the inroads of competing materials. Appliance makers have had a good year and say they expect still higher production next year.

Mississippi Failing With School Bonds

NEW YORK (AP) — Some $8.775 million in Mississippi state school bonds are to be offered for sale today, one day after a Mississippi water district failed to receive acceptable bids on a $24.5 million revenue bond issue.

The Pearl River Valley Water Supply District of Jackson offered the issue Tuesday. A district spokesman disputed claims by two civil rights organizations that their calls for a boycott on Mississippi bonds helped deter investors.

Two financial syndicates that decided against offering bids said they were not influenced by requests from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality that they boycott the sale.

The district received only two bids. Robert Hederman Jr., president of the water district board, said one, offered by a syndicate headed by Francis I. duPont & Co., was turned down because it set too high an interest cost.

The other, he said, contained some technical flaws, but was taken under consideration.

Opinion on Wall Street was divided over what the bid failures meant.

Some brokers discounted any influence by civil rights groups, saying the lack of bids simply reflected objections to the 3.65 per cent interest ceiling the district had placed on the bonds. The district is trying to refinance earlier bonds that offered a 4.15 per cent interest rate.

Other brokers countered that the objections of the NAACP and CORE could not be ignored, because investors tend to shy away from controversy that could make the bonds difficult to resell.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, said the lack of syndicate bidding reflected "a recognition by the investment community that participation in Mississippi bond issues is direct tangible support for the Mississippi system of callous racial discrimination."

Carl Rochlin, national counsel for CORE, said his group felt "the companies have shown a great moral responsibility" by not bidding.

Hederman said the district attaches no importance to what happened, adding: "We're not hurt at all because there are no projects awaiting financing."

He said the district may try to sell the bonds by other means.

The duPont syndicate included John Nuveen's Co., Equitable Securities Corp., Deposit Guaranty Bank of Jackson, First National Bank of Jackson, Leland Speed Co. of Jackson, and other dealers.

The bid taken under consideration asked an effective interest rate of 3.494 per cent. It was submitted by a group headed by Almon, McKinney & Dudley, Inc., of Dallas, and J. S. Love Co. & Associates of Jackson.

The two groups who were considering bidding but decided against it were headed by Smith, Barney & Co., and F. S. Smithers & Co. They said they did not think they could sell the bonds within the district's interest limitation.

Wilson Wins Okay For His NATO Plan

LONDON (AP) — By a 10-vote margin, Prime Minister Harold Wilson won House of Common support Thursday for his plan to organize an Atlantic nuclear force. The Liberals voted with the Laborites.

Sir Alec Douglas-Home led the Conservative opposition with the contention Wilson's plan is strategically worthless.

Wilson is proposing a force composed of British nuclear bombers, British and U.S. polari submarines and a mixed-manned fleet with men from various NATO nations. A multiple veto would assure unanimity before any nuclear weapons were fired by the force.

How Children Fail

by JOHN HOLT

Copyright 1964 Pitman Publishing Co.
(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

We cannot have real learning in school if we think it is our duty and our right to tell children what they must learn.

We cannot know, at any moment, what particular bit of knowledge or understanding a child needs most. Only he can do this. He may not do it very well, but he can do it a hundred times better than we can. The most we can do is try to help, by letting him know roughly what is available and where he can look for it. Choosing what he wants to learn and what he does not is something he must do for himself.

There is one more reason, and the most important one, why we must reject the idea of school and classroom as a place where, most of the time, children are doing what some adult tells them to do. The reason is that there is no way to coerce children without making them afraid, or more afraid. We must not try to fool ourselves into thinking that this is not so.

The would - be progressives, who until recently had great influence over most American public school education, did not recognize this—and still do not. They thought, or at least talked and wrote as if they thought, that there were good ways and bad ways to coerce children (the bad ones mean, harsh, cruel, the good ones gentle, persuasive, subtle, kindly), and that if they avoided the bad and stuck to the good they would do no harm.

This was one of their greatest mistakes, and the main reason why the revolution they hoped to accomplish never took hold.

The idea of painless, non-threatening coercion is an illusion. Fear is the inseparable companion of coercion, and its inescapable consequence. If you think it your duty to make children do what you want, whether they will or not, then it follows inexorably that you must make them afraid of what will happen to them if they don't do what you want.

You can do this in the old-fashioned way, openly and avowedly, with the threat of harsh words, infringement of liberty, or physical punishment. Or you can do it in the modern way, subtly, smoothly, quietly, by withholding the acceptance and approval which you and others have trained the children to depend on; or by making them feel that some retribution awaits them in the future, too vague to imagine but too implacable to escape.

You can, as many skilled teachers do, learn to tap with a word, a gesture, a look, even a smile, the great reservoir of fear, shame, and guilt that today's children carry around inside them. Or you can simply let your own fears, about what will happen to you if the children don't do what you want, reach out and infect them.

The alternative—I can see no other—is to have schools and classrooms in which each child in his own way can satisfy his curiosity, develop his abilities and talents, pursue his interests, and from the adults and older children around him get a glimpse of the great variety of richness of life.

In short, the school should be a great smorgasbord of intellectual, artistic, creative, and athletic activities, from which each child could take whatever he wanted, and as much as he wanted or as little.

After describing very sketchily to a sixth grader how such a school might be run, and what the children might do, I said, "Tell me, what do you think of it? Do you think it would work? Do you think the kids would learn anything?" She said, with utmost conviction, "Oh yes, it would be wonderful!" She was silent for a minute or two, perhaps remembering her own generally unhappy schooling. Then she said thoughtfully, "You know, kids really like to learn; we just don't like being pushed around."

No, they don't; and we should be grateful for that. So let's stop pushing them around, and give them a chance.

(End Series)

Use of Prison Labor Blasted In Arkansas

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Just as dusk was falling on a deer hunting camp, Arnold Rhodes picked up a shotgun and shells and drove off in a pickup truck.

Rhodes was a convict serving life for rape.

He had been loaned by the State Penitentiary to cook at the camp.

The practice of loaning convicts had been going on for years but no one said much until Saturday when Rhodes broke a chain of good conduct among favored prisoners.

Much of the criticism was leveled at State Rep. Paul Van Dalsem, a member of the deer lodge 40 miles northwest of Little Rock where Rhodes was working.

Van Dalsem, a Democrat and a floor leader for Gov. Orval E. Faubus, said he did not personally arrange for the cook. But Republicans in his county lowered their sights on him.

"We believe that no one, not even Paul Van Dalsem, has the right to use prison inmates this way," said Perry County GOP chairman Verne Smith. "We call on authorities to see why there was this flagrant disregard for public protection."

Van Dalsem replied: "You tell him I'm damned glad he's alarmed."

Warden Dan T. Stephens defended the loan system as a morale builder among prisoners. He said he would not call for the return of the 37 other convicts who are working in deer camps this week.

Only trusties are loaned, Stephens said, and they go only to deep camps.

"I'm not going to stop the custom," he said. "This policy is probably as old as the penitentiary."

But the chairman of the State Penitentiary Board, J. D. Wood, promised an investigation of the loan system, and said, "it may be eliminated."

Faubus said he didn't like the loan practice, "but I've been reluctant to take any action against it because you have to give these department heads some leeway."

Stephens, a Faubus appointee, said the prisoners are paid about $6 a day in tips for cooking and doing other chores at the camps.

Rhodes, 29, was sentenced eight years ago at Fort Smith for rape. His application for commutation of sentence was rejected by the State Parole Board last August.

State Police said Rhodes was alone at the camp when he escaped. Rhodes abandoned the stolen pickup truck in Fort Smith. Officers have found no further trace of him.

Aircraft Carrier Not Ready for Delivery

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — The Aircraft Carrier America is not going to be ready for delivery to the Navy Dec. 31 as scheduled. She is in port for repairs, and will have to take her sea trials a second time.

The Navy delayed delivery Thursday, saying the giant ship had developed "material discrepancies" during sea trials. The Navy said such discrepancies are "not uncommon on a ship of the size and complexity of a modern aircraft carrier."

The Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., builder of the ship, said the discrepancies occurred in machinery supplied by subcontractors. It did not elaborate.

The Navy said delivery would be sometime in January.

LETTERS FROM READERS READERS

An automobile editor suggests something about the lack of toilet facilities on some interstate expressways. This is not a problem for a medical editor to solve but many individuals with kidney and bladder disease are unable to use these highways for this reason. They have intense urgency and frequency and cannot travel far without going to a rest room. One of my patients lived 20 miles from my office and her technic was to stop for gasoline at four stations on the way. Her cystitis was remedied and she is grateful to be relieved of this embarrassing condition.

An Oquawka, Ill., man was amazed at my opening sentence on the suicide toll. I said, "No one knows how many persons commit suicide because the family often protects the victims by blaming death on other causes."

He writes: "I though physicians, not the family, were superseded by the coroner's office with the responsibility of certifying the true cause of death. Has this practice been changed?"

The answer is no, but the story told by the family plays an important role in determining whether death was accidental or intentional. Did the individual slip off a cliff or jump? Drink poison by mistake or intentionally? Shoot himself accidentally while cleaning the gun or with suicide in mind?

The deceased may have succumbed to a broken neck which is mentioned on the certificate. The reason is not known and the cause is omitted.

More on poison ivy: An Evanston, Ill., woman writes: "Most of the nature lovers in my native Brown county, Ind., have learned that wherever poison ivy grows, so does the jewelweed. On coming into contact with poison ivy, they look for the jewelweed, pick a large stem, and crush leaves and stem to extract the sap and rub on exposed areas. This helps even after redness and itching have developed. I understand the University of Indiana has attempted unsuccessfully to make a stable solution of jewelweed extract but apparently only the fresh plant has therapeutic value."

This is news to me but the plan cannot be recommended until more scientific evidence is obtained. If I contacted poison ivy, I would be inclined to trust good old soap and water, plus a solvent such as cleaning fluid or even gasoline. But keep your fingers crossed. We are finding that many weeds and plants have medicinal value and the clews often come from old wives' tales or from the medicine man in the bush.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.

IMFLAMED POCKETS

Mrs. W. writes: Could diverticulas cause blood in the stools at times?

REPLY

Yes. These tiny pockets in the colon may become inflamed and bleed.

CORTISONE AND ULCER

H. S. writes: Can an ulcer victim take cortisone?

REPLY

Cortison and ulcers do not mix. The lesion might be reactivated by the hormone in those who have had ulcer.

BRONCHITIS AND CANCER

R. E. writes: Does chronic bronchitis always lead to lung cancer?

REPLY

No. Physicians try not to use the word "always."

A COMMON SYMPTOM

Mrs. S. writes: Is breast soreness normal a few days before the period?

REPLY

Yes. Most women notice this tenderness.

Downfall of Halleck Is Being Forecast

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The drive to unseat Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as House Republican leader is gaining momentum, say two members trying to bring it about.

After weeks of backstage maneuvering, Charles M. Goodell of New York and Robert P. Grifin of Michigan are cautiously, and openly, predicting Halleck's downfall after six years as the GOP floor leader.

"I think there is going to be a change," Goodell told newsmen Thursday night during a break in one of the meetings he and Griffin have been holding with some other Republicans several times daily for the past two weeks.

Goodell added the most likely change would be Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan taking over Halleck's job when the Republicans elect their leaders for the 89th Congress Jan. 4.

"I hope Ford announces right away," said Goodell. "There is considerable sentiment that he should run."

Ford has resisted all efforts to get him to declare his candidacy. But he also has declined to say he would not run.

With time growing short if a successful coup is to be staged, Goodell and Griffin indicated they will do their best to get an early commitment from Ford.

"I think we'll have a candidate by early next week," said Griffin. Asked what would happen to the dump-Halleck campaign if they didn't, Griffin shrugged.

The only other Republican mentioned as a possible foe of Halleck has been Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin. He is a good friend of Ford and has held back as long as Ford appears interested. But Laird is believed willing to make the fight if Ford doesn't.

Goodell and Griffin warmed up for the present fight by stage-managing a successful minor revolt two years ago that dumped an old-line Halleck lieutenant, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, as chairman of the House Republican conference and put Ford in the job. At the time it was freely predicted Halleck would be their next target.

Tons of Sand With Salt Used on Streets

The city street department spread 598 tons of sand and 15,000 pounds of salt to combat snow-slickened streets during November.

In addition, the street department hauled away 306 truckloads of snow and 87 loads of sand. All the sand put down eventually has to be picked up again.

Earlier in the month, the department hauled away 62 truck loads of leaves.

More than 250 tons of hot mix were used during the month to repair holes and surface cuts in streets.

A lot of man hours were also spent on street sweeping, setting out and taking down lanterns and barricades, curb, gutter and sidewalk repairs, removing dirt, trash and dead animals from streets, grading or cutting down old streets and preparing for paving.

Much of this same kind of work will be continued by the street department next year, but the city will not participate in improvement district work in 1965.

Phone Simply Flips In Her Apartment

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The phone flipped at Mrs. Hugh Allen's apartment.

Through a quirk in the mechanism somewhere, Mrs. Allen got more than 200 wrong numbers in two days.

Among the parties sought were an airline, paint stores, doctors' offices, a hotel and automobile firms, she said.

"I got real shaky," she said, after the trouble was "pretty much corrected" Thursday.

One caller asked it it wasn't the airline "why do you keep on answering the phone?"

Espionage Operator Is Found in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Chun Dong An, a 35-year-old North Korean, was arrested Tuesday as he was lifting woolen underwear from a Tokyo store.

When detective searched his room they found more new underwear and also a wireles receiver, a secret code book and other "espionage equipment."

Police said Chun admitted that he slipped into Japan in May 1963 and had been relaying home information on Japan's political, economic and social situation, and on the movements of U.S. forces in Japan.

Security officers estimate about 400 North Korean agents are in Japan.

City Court Jury Finds Denver Man Guilty

A Municipal Court jury Thursday found William McDonald, 68, Denver, guilty of careless driving. The jury of one man and five women was out for two hours and 10 minutes.

Judge Allan Asher levied a $15 fine against McDonald and granted his attorney Robert Dunlap a 10-day stay of execution.

The trial involved an accident at Cimarron Street and Cascade Avenue when McDonald's car was struck by one being driven by Mrs. Joan McNeill, 28, Ft. Carson.

Mrs. McNeill was being shown a demonstrator car by Ronald Theisman, salesman for Phil Long Motors, and had taken the wheel a block before the intersection. Both she and Theisman said they had the green light at Cimarron on which they were driving west.

Cpl. Emmett Butler, who investigated the accident, testified that McDonald was northbound on Cascade. He said McDonald told him at the scene that he didn't know the color of the light but "was pretty sure it wasn't red." Butler also said McDonald admitted to him that he was "preoccupied" at the time.

At his trial, McDonald maintained the light was amber as he entered the intersection.

Deputy Attorney Bob Isaac represented the city.

In other action Thursday, Judge Asher ordered bonds forfeited by the following: Robert F. Atkinson, 22, Elm Creek, Neb. $15, speeding; Janice LaVonne Baugher, 27, Aurora, $15, careless driving; Robert Michael Hrinek, 18, 1921½ Manitou Blvd., $20, careless driving; and Frank Roberson, 56, 405 N. 19th St., $15, signal light violation.

Fines or sentences were imposed on the following who entered guilty pleas to charges: Lewis Gilbert Almen, 30, Denver, $25, drunkenness; Arthur Wesley Cox, 60, Victor, $30, drunkenness and riotous conduct;

Kenneth Willard Diggs, 43, 515 W. Taylor St., 10 days, drunkenness; Anthony L. Tafoya, 29, 329 E. Fountain St., 20 days, drunkenness; James Fernandez, 19, 622 E. Cache la Poudre St., $45, driving with defective brakes and careless driving.

A $10 bond was ordered forfeited by Michael Francis Elliott, 24, 3022 W. Kiowa St., on a charge of making an improper turn.

FIREMEN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY — Turkey with all the trimmings was served Thursday night at the City Auditorium at the 17th annual Colorado Springs fire department's Christmas party. Being served here is little Sandra Dee Allen, along with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Allen; he works out of No. 2 fire station. Doing the serving is Fireman William Rebel from No. 6 station. After the delicious dinner, which was prepared by the firemen, Santa Claus and all the children received gifts. Since only half the firemen could attend Wednesday night, a second dinner and party will be held tonight.

School District Approves Plans For Two New Building Projects

The board of School District 3 (Widefield-Security) Thursday night at the December meeting approved plans for two building projects to take care of almost immediate needs then decided on a series of special meetings to discuss other district problems.

The decisions were made unanimously, with members Clarence Foster, Ted Forde, Carl Roberts and Tom Slack attending, and Rodger Fay absent.

The plans approved for additional buildings were:

— An addition to the high school that is expected to cost about $800,000, including some alterations to the present building.

The high school addition will allow a large vocational program as it will have home economics, band, metals shop, auto mechanics, carpentry, and a commercial department rooms.

Rooms marked for the commercial studies department include one for a computer.

Some time ago the board decided it should begin teaching modern computer programming to its high school students.

The addition of the vocational high school facilities will allow the present high school library to be doubled, and also will permit building a combination biology-physics laboratory classroom in what is now the home economics department.

The addition will be about 22,900 square feet and will be added on to the east side of the present building.

— The second building plan approved was for an addition on the Watson Junior High that will include 12 classrooms in addition to the other needed rooms.

This building will be different in design from the other junior teaching, a technique tried out last year by the district and which is expected to be quite addition is completed.

Carlisle Guy of the architectural firm of Francis and Guy designed both additions. If progress goes as expected, bids are expected to be opened about Feb. 15 on the high school addition, Supt. Richard Taylor told the board.

The special meetings the board decided to hold have been the subject of off and on conversations at board meetings for more than a year.

It was decided to have the first special meeting on the night of Jan. 7, the first Thursday of the month. It will be an executive meeting and thus not open to the public or the press.

Roberts asked that the board arrange for meetings during which the board would look at education as such, and not have to spend its time approving business affairs.

"We seem to have to take too much time to solve immediate problems. We must study the future course of education. We must look to the horizon so that we can lay the groundwork for studies in this district 10 years hence," he said.

Foster, who is chairman, pointed out that the district is educating the children for other labor markets, as so many of the young people leave the area to find work after finishing high school.

Roberts agreed, but added, "Nonetheless it is our responsibility to educate them now and in the future and for the future."

Slack agreed that the board should hold such meetings and the unanimous vote followed.

Slack reported that he would like the board members to consider what could be done about a physical health program in the school district.

He is a dentist. He reported that he has seen cases where it appeared that children were not being given proper dental care.

Slack pointed out that he had considered this problem for many months, but had declined to mention it to the board because of his profession. However, he added, he now felt deeply enough about the problems that he felt something should be said.

He explained that he was working with Donald Joiner, director of the grade schools, on a program for dental health week in February.

Slack did not ask for any action by the board, but added, "I think that parents should be encouraged to take care of their children's health problems."

Slack also reported that the athletes in the school district had better protected mouths than those of any other district in the area because every lad who turned out for a sport was fitted with a mouth guard.

Slack and Dr. Joseph Gentile, also of the Security area, made the mouth guards. A total of 274 guards were made this year, it was reported.

In other action, the board:

— Granted a sabbatical leave to Charlie Meig for the school year of 1965-66 so that he can complete his work at the University of Wyoming for a doctorate in education.

Meigs was granted a sabbatical for the present school year about a year ago, but was unable to take advantage of the opportunity because of his wife's poor health.

— Accepted the resignations of Mrs. Paula Cunningham, a kindergarten teacher at South and Talbott Schools, and of Mrs. Irma Borgen of high school.

—Decided to transfer the hot lunch and school cafeteria bank account from the Exchange National Bank to the Fountain Valley Bank and thus save $26 a month in armored car pickup charges.

— Voted to send a letter of thanks to Dr. Gentile for work in making mouthpieces.

— Voted to send letters of commendation to the student body, the teaching staff, the Security Volunteer Fire Department, the administrative staff, and the Ordnance Detachment at Ft. Carson.

The commendations are to be for the quick and orderly actions taken by all groups last month when a bomb threat was reported and the buildings were evacuated.

The Ft. Carson detachment sent a demolition crew to school to check for the bomb — which was not found.

Homing Pigeons Taken From Back Yard Cages

Approximately 100 homing pigeons valued at $1,000 were taken from their cages in the back yard of a local home between 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and 10 a.m. Wednesday, police reported.

David L. John, 3122 W. Pikes Peak Ave., told police he missed the pigeons on Wednesday morning, and that by 10 a.m. that day there were many more gone. John said that all the pigeons were registered and had tags on their legs, and that the thieves had only taken homing pigeons and that all the show pigeons were left in their cages. He said that besides the adult pigeons, there were several bunches of babies and several eggs taken, according to the report.

Postmaster Says Mail Now

"It's too late to mail early, so please mail now," postmaster R. H. Wardwell said today

"The biggest mail explosion in history is upon us and we need the cooperation of everyone to make sure that the holiday mail is all delivered before Christmas," the Colorado Springs postmaster said.

Wardwell suggested the use of air mail and special delivery to guarantee pre-Christmas delivery, especially for out-of-town mail.

In all instances, the use of ZIP Codes will be helpful. The codes generally mean that mail moves in a more direct route and is handled fewer times. Parcels with ZIPPED addresses may be delivered 24 hours or more before others going to the same destination which do not include the five digit code, Wardwell says.

He announced that all postal operations will be on a holiday schedule Christmas Day. Only special delivery mail will be delivered on December 25.

Wardwell thanked all the citizens of Colorado Springs who cooperated in the "Shop and Mail Early" campaign.

A HUNDRED GIFTS — Capt. Roger Malmberg, right, accepts over 100 gifts given by employees of the Columbia Savings and Loan Association. The gifts will be distributed through the Toy and Joy Shop at the Salvation Army. H. Eugenne Combs, manager of Columbia Savings, presents the gifts. The tree in the background is trimmed entirely in hand-made ornaments made by the Frank O'Donnell family of Denver. Some of the non-perishable ornaments have been in the family for generations, others, made out of foodstuffs, are created each year as a family project. The tree stands in the lobby of the Columbia Savings and Loan Association.

ADC Chief Addresses KC Luncheon

Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, Air Defense Command commander, was the principal speaker at a Kansas City Air Force Association luncheon at noon Thursday.

Purpose of the luncheon was to allow prominent Missouri civic leaders to honor Maj. Gen. Dolf E. Muelheisen, commander of ADC's 29th Air Div., headquartered at Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo. Gen. Muelheisen will retire in January after completing 32 years of service.

After presenting a tribute to the guest of honor, which traced Gen. Muelheisen's career through the infancy, adolescence and maturity of aviation and air power, Gen. Thatcher expanded the topic to include the future of air defense operations.

"As far as the future of aerospace defense is concerned," the General remarked, "we can read much from the lessons of history. When we deny the concept of the 'ultimate weapon' we are simply stating that we recognize a continuing requirement to meet the most likely threats that any potential enemy can pose against us.

"For all practical purposes, active defense weapons for use against manned bombers are now complete. We still have a major problem, though — the supersonic bomber, carrying air-to-surface missiles. . .This explains why we feel that an IMI, or improved manned interceptor, is such a necessity. . .why we are so excited about the YF-12A - an aircraft that appears to have the kind of reaction, speed and range we seek."

This was Gen. Thatcher's second appearance before an Air Force Association audience this month. He presented the Pearl Harbor Day address before the Dallas, Texas AFA Squardon on Dec. 7.

Plant Engineer Lights Steam For Christmas

How do you deck out a steam generating plant for the Christmas season.

They found a way to do it at the Drake (South) Steam Plant.

Bev Godec, assistant chief engineer at the plant, knew that a pillar of steam rises from the cooling towers during cold winter days.

So he rigged up green and red lights for night displays of the billowing steam.

Best views of the display are from Cimarron Street just north of the plant, or from Interstate 25.

Sheriff Reports Two Theft Incidents

The sheriff's office reported two thefts Thursday.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Carey said a cutting torch, and acetylene torch and gauges and lines had been stolen from the 7-Up Bottling Co., 802 Garden of the Gods Road.

The second incident was reported by Ray Smith, Cascade, who said a refrigerator had been removed from the home of Mrs. Frank Delp also in Cascade.

Value of the missing items is unlisted.

Fountain Man Still In "Poor" Condition

Dennis J. Schaible, 21, of Fountain, remains in "poor" condition at St. Francis Hospital, officials reported. He was critically injured shortly before midnight Wednesday when his speeding car overturned on U.S. 85-87, about 18 miles south of Colorado Springs.

He suffered fractures of the pelvis and ribs and cuts on the forehead and body.

PHILIPPINE ACE — Retired Air Force Col. J. A. Villamor, (left) former personal pilot for Gen. MacArthur, Flight instructor for Gen. Dwight D. Water Meters Considered For Security Patrons

Water meters for Security Village are being considered by the Security Water Board.

Of the 2,580 water taps serviced by the district, only the Security Park and Recreation District is presently metered.

At their regular monthly meeting Thursday night, in Security Fire Station, the board had a feasibility report on meters from board member Ray Gibson on their agenda.

Instead a letter of resignation was read from Gibson. He was recently elected to a four-year term.

Gibson's letter said he was resigning because he was moving to Colorado Springs.

Board President Herman Walsky said the board would appoint Gibson's replacement "in the near future."

Walsky assured reporters that any discussion on installing water meters would be at a publicized public meeting.

The water board meeting adjourned, shortly after it began, after it was learned there were no customers' complaint.

Then the Security Sanitation District Board, which has the same members as the water board, began their meeting.

However board members put on their water board hats again to talk water with a lawyer representing Sproul Homes Inc., developers of Security.

The lawyer asked permission for Sproul to use the water district's 16-inch pipeline from Clear Spring Ranch to Security, when the district is not using it.

Thi request was tabled after Walsky pointed out that the district was already ". . .doing Sproul a favor by not pumping Clear Spring water we're entitled to." (The district presently is getting water from the Sproul wells.)

Thomas Remple, manager of the district, said Clear Spring water had not been used, except for very small amounts, since Sept. 15.

An "executive session," which would not be public, was planned by the board to consider Sproul's request to use the 16-inch line.

Other business before the water and sanitation boards included:

—Approval to invest $20,000 in sanitation district revenue in U.S. Treasury Bonds.

—Request by Don Hammer, president of The Bank of the Fountain Valley, that "We would like to have your business." No action was taken on this request.

— Remple's report that the sewage plant was "up to capacity" but treatment was "very, very good."

—Adjournment into closed executive session to discuss wages in the sanitation district.

Five Traffic Cases Heard In JP Court

Five traffic violators were fined by Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane Thursday.

Charles Day Esch, 34, 1215 Adams Dr., no valid operator's license Dec. 10, $6 and costs.

Daniel Lee Schneider, 16, Maple Lodge, Manitou Springs, 40 miles per hour in a 30 zone Wednesday, $15 and costs.

James Everson Jenkins, 38, 15 N. 13th St., careless driving Sunday, $20 and costs.

Charlie Maude Reeves, 17, 513 E. Cache la Poudre St., no valid operator's license Tuesday, $6 and costs.

Thomas William Bennett, 24, Ft. Carson, driving the wrong way on a one-way street Monday, $6 and costs.

Visitor Proves 'Truth Stranger Than Fiction'

Truth, the old saying goes, is stranger than fiction.

A diminutive visitor to the Air Force Academy conclusively proved that statement for staff members and cadets.

Although small in stature, J. A Villamor of Denver, can look back on a record of service to two nations that is almost "Larger than life".

As a youth lieutenant in the Philippine Air Force he found the flying of an American Army officer bent on acquiring a private pilot's license extremely ragged one morning and told him so in no uncertain terms.

So taken back by the "chewing" was the American colonel that he stammered "Yes Sir! no excuse for it, sir."

The colonel's name? Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Lt. Villamor was instructing for an American sports flying club at the time of the incident—now recalled with great fondness by both men.

The Academy visitor began his flying career as a member of the Class of 1937 at Kelly Field, Tex.

In the days before World War Two, Lt. Villamor also spent five months as the personal pilot of Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur.

Following the Japanese attack on the Philippines, the lieutenant waged a personal war against the enemy, downing five Zeros and earning ace rating.

The plucky officer played an important role in organizing and leading guerilla activities in the Manila area after the fall of the city.

After the surrender at Corregidor, Lt. Villamor transferred to the U. S. Air Force.

He was recalled to active duty during the Korean Conflict and shortly thereafter received his American citizenship.

Upon his retirement from the Air Force, the Philippine ace wore the silver eagles of a colonel.

For his outstanding service, Col. Villamor earned the highly coveted Distinguished Service Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

Now a consultant with Stearns-Rogers Corp. in Denver, Col. Villamor traces his interest in service academy education back to the time he organized the flying program for the academy of his native land.

The colonel's friendship with, ex-Lt. Col. Eisenhower paid unexpected dividends in 1952. His former flying student wrote a personal letter inviting Col. Villamor to the White House.

Col. Villamor was accompanied to the Academy by J. M. Lane, also from Stearns-Rogers, and toured the cadet area with Maj. Bicknell Beckwith, chief of the Visitors Control Division.

Many Persons Attend Florence Elks Ball

Over 1,500 persons turned out Saturday night at Florence Elks Lodge No. 611 to participate in the annual Christmas Charity Ball, a "Day in Creede."

Money raised by the lodge during the evening goes to help its community and charity activities during the year.

Burglars Damage School; Get Variety of Loot

Burglars entered the Administration Building of School District 11 between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 5:45 a.m. Thursday by smashing a window on the first floor, police reported.

The windows the thieves broke were valued at $35, and they also took articles from the building valued at $32, police said.

After the thieves broke into the structure located at 1115 N. El Paso St., they made their way to the kitchen where they vandalized the room by pouring coffee over everything, opened all the cupboards, broke open the pop and candy machines and took the money from them, and then took foodstuffs from the room.

Among missing articles was a ten pound bag of sugar, a teapot, three bags of coffee, a napkin holder, and a coffee maker, according to the report.

Two Injured In One-Car Mishap Here

A one-car accident Thursday resulted in injuries to two persons, the State Patrol reported.

Robert M. Fedor, 24, Ft. Carson, sustained a broken collarbone and lacerations to his face. Gerald A. Mutz, 18, Ft. Carson, had lacerations and abrasions to his face.

Both men were taken to Ft Carson Hospital by E & E Ambulance.

The patrol said the accident occurred when Fedor was driving east and lost control of his vehicle, ten miles west of Lake George Park at 11 a.m. Thursday. The car went into a side skid, then turned over in the west bound lane of the road and slid on the top for 54 feet. It then turned back over on its wheels, rolled off the left side of the road, and went into a barrow pit.

The car, a 1962 model, was termed a total loss by the patrol. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Annual Concert Held at Florence

The annual Christmas concert, presented by the students and pupils of school district Re-2(J), was held Thursday at the Florence High School auditorium.

The concert was divided into three sections including the Fremont elementary choir, the Fremont junior high school, and the Florence high school choir.

A total of 45 students in the fifth and sixth grades took part in the Fremont elementary program which included the singing of "Deck the Hall," "The Holly and the Ivy," "Ring Bells, Klingelingeling," and and "Lully, Lullay." Miss Anne Heid was the piano accompanist.

Singing in the Fremont Junior Choir was 145 students from Florence and 25 from Penrose. Selections included "Christmas Gloria," "Angels We Have Heard on High," "The First Noel," and "Silent Night."

A total of 65 students, who make up the FHS choir, sang "Gloria In Excelsis," "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," "The Cherry Tree Carol," "Caroling, Caroling," "All on a Christmas Morning," "We'll Dress the House," and "Lullaby on Christmas Eve."

The Florence high school choir was accompanied by Miss Kathleen Nelson, while the Junior High School choir was accompanied by Miss Anne Heid and Miss Sally Howard.

Men Investigated In Burglary Probe

Two men are being investigated for the burglary of Bob's Liquor Store, 3519 N. El Paso St. when liquor valued at $176.48 was stolen, the sheriff's office said Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Woodrow Littrell, his office received a call from a man who said the store was being broken into. A description of their car and the direction in which it had gone was obtained and Deputy Sheriffs Larry Holien and Vincent Denboske picked them up and took them to County Jail for investigation.

Car Parts Taken From Disabled Auto

Jackie Breckenridge, 4303 Ridgecrest Dr. reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that a new battery, a tire and wheel, a bumper jack and cigarette lighter had been stolen from his car.

He said that the vehicle, a 1949 model, had broken down and had been parked on Flintridge Dr. for the past week.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

© 1964, By the Chicago Tribune

HOLLYWOOD — Dick Van Dyke's signing deals all over town. He'll star for Bud Yorkin and Norman Lear in "Fear on Trial," the story of John Henry Faik who spent six years clearing his name after he was tagged as a commie, and won over a million in a preecdent-setting lawsuit. The boys tell me they'll do it in the esntimental American vein of Frank Capra's social dramas, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to town." . . . Van Dyke returns to Disney in May for a modern version of Robinson Crusoe, "Lt. Robin Crusoe, U. S. N.," and Producer Bill Walsh tells me they'll stick in a couple of songs for him. . . . I'd never seen a stag reel until I saw "Kiss Me, Stupid." Christmas joke on the public. It's filthy! And I can only think that Wilder wanted to help sink the industry when he made it. they'll do it in the sentimental This may be the one that brings on complete censorship. If Kim Novak, Dean Martin, Felicia Farr, and Ray Walston survive it, they're lucky. Put it on your list — to miss, miss, miss.

Paul Newman is going to play in an untitled picture at Universal about the Cuban underground next spring, with Arthur Loew Jr. as producer. Seven years ago Paul and Loew made "The Rack" for Metro. Better luck this time. . . . Artie Shaw has the galleys on his new book, "I Love You, I Hate You, Drop Dead." He describes it as "a new literary cocktail — marriage on the rocks." Artie tells me that Henry Ginsberg will remarry his ex-wife, Mildred. He was full of hot news. He says of all his marriages, only two wives treat him as an ex-husband should be treated — Lana Turner and Ava Gardner. When they're in the same city they always see each other. His aim is to be a producer, and I'll bet he makes it.

They call this the dull heason, but our town is buzzing with activity. Warners summoned Roger Smith home from Mexico where he's doing a night-club act to start the TV version of "Mister Roberts" between Christmas and New Year's. Bill Dozner's starting two series before '65 gets under way: You're Only Young Twice with Ed Wynn playing a kooky scientist, Ethel Waters his housekeeper of 45 years, and Don Taylor directing; and Heaven Help Us with Barry Nelson starred and Richard Whorf directing. This is a reunion for Dozier, Nelson, and Writer Sol Sak It was exactly 10 years ago that they started "My Favorite Husband" . . . Dozier spent seven hours in the New York airport waiting for the fog to lift, but had plenty of company. Jonathan Winters was there, also Milton Krasner on his way home from photographing Liz and Burton in "Sandpiper."

I have been getting letters that should go to the Lennon Sisters, and I have news for their fans. Their father has a brilliant idea (can't imagine why it hasn't been though of before). He'd like his four singing daughters to do a musical version of "Little Women." But he'll have to wait a while. I understand Peggy is expecting a baby . . . Lance Reventlow, instead of spending his honeymoon on skis, is wearing a plaster cast from the waist down. He's a fine skier but brok his leg in several places, and is not allowed visitors at the hospital except his bride. The accident happened at Monmouth. Naturally they've canceled the party on Dec. 23.

Christmas Monster Business Booming

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP) — The monster business is booming this Christmas, and the sales have provoked a controversy in the toy business.

Manufacturers of Frankensteins, hunchbacks and Draculas expect horror toy sales will reach $20 million this year.

Among the more popular tops are a do-it-yourself chambers of horrors kit and a guillotine with a battery-operated knife.

Some industry sources predict horror toys may replace the always popular guns, tanks, space rockets and grenades in the arsenals of adventurous boys. But manufacturers can't agree whether the horror toys are good or bad.

"I don't believe American manufacturers should sponsor the idea that war and horror are fun," Jack Wright, 50, product designer for Toy Tinkers, Inc., said today. Tinker Toys have been the firm's only product for 50 years.

"Horror toys are designed around or based on some current television show and its obvious the manufacturer is trying to latch onto the free publicity," Wright said.

"That doesn't mean the toy has any play value for the child."

But Kenneth Block, midwest sales manager for the Mattel Toy Co., said "most of the toys are in a humorous vein and I think when you put humor into it, you take some of the horror out of it."

Block said his firm, which until recently limited its output of violent toys to guns and tanks, will begin selling monster toys next year.

"The kids like them," Block said. "It appeals to the bizarre for the same reason the kids like the Beatles.

It has been estimated that there are more than 30,000 airline flights in the U.S. daily.

"But from a sociological point of view, I also don't think they're hurting anybody."

Some firms occasionally "make errors in judgment," Block said. "But I would say that most firms exercise good taste."

Deaf Scouts North Pole Visitors

The two Girl Scout Troops for the deaf girls from the Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind were entertained at the North Pole, Cascade recently.

The Colorado Springs Alumnae Chapter of Chi Omega met the girls at 10 a.m. A tour of the various shops included a stop for cookies from Mama Santa Claus, delivery of gift-wrapped presents from Chi Omega by Santa himself, a magic show, a trip on the miniature railway, personal shopping and picture-taking and refreshments at the snack shop. The girls enjoyed box lunches before returning to their school in the afternoon.

The Girl Scouts and Chi Omega Alumnae particularly appreciated the courtesies extended by Dr. A. C. Herzberger, which included free entry to the North Pole and part of the refreshments.

Attending were Judy Hart, Judy Churchwell, Margaret Andrew, Nancy Schriver, Gloria Wilhelms, Gloria Martinez, Jeannette Esquibel, Orlinda Sanchez, Crete Ripley, Bonnie Kilthau, Lisa Reha, Kathryn Stephens, Sharon Love, Delores Cundall, Trudy Kinzer, Debra Sumpter, Cathy Hernandez, Cecelia Martinez, Nancy Wilson-Tamma Reid, Susan Wallace, Patsy Baca, Patsy Reiche, and Judy Serck.

Sponsors from the Deaf and Blind School who accompanied the troops were Mrs. De Roy Stevens, Mrs. Mary Shultz and Mrs. Kathy Wiley. Mrs. Lois Moore headed the Chi Omega Committee, which also included Miss Dorothea Carlton, Mrs. Jack Floerke and Mrs. Horace F. Drobny. All of the Chi Omega Alumnae met together to wrap the presents given.

Spinster Leaves $2 Million Estate

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — When Jennie W. Elden, a 78-year-old spinster, was killed in an automobile accident six weeks ago, friends were aware she possessed a sizable estate.

But they were surprised when officials revealed her estate is worth $2 million, with $350,000 of it found in drawers, on sheves and in assorted hiding palces throughout the 10-room house at Mount Alto where he had lived alone since 1960.

Atty. John W. Kelr, estate administrator, said Thursday that federal and state inheritance taxes would take a considerable bite of the estate. The balance will be divided among cousins of the deceased. She left no will.

Miss Elden was struck and killed by a car last Nov. 4.

Complexion Steaming

To clean and freshen the complexion, ease away crows feet and unwanted expression lines and put more life into your skin, try complexion steaming. With a towel over your head, steam over a basin of hot water in which a teaspoon of lemon juice can be added if available. Beforehand anoint the skin with oil of olay so when the hot steam clears the pores the oil penetrates. After steaming, tone with a lemon freshener and smooth the skin to youthful beauty with a film of olay.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

A quick way to make hamburger patties all the same size is to form them in inexpensive paper muffin liners. By putting a scoop in each liner, you will get patties all the same size.

To shape them, just press them out with your hand. The muffin liner lies flat, and you will have a circular pattern.

Patties like this store compactly, too. For freezing, just lay one on top of the other. The paper liner keeps them from sticking. — Mary Anne Steinkuehler.

Dear Heloise:

Here is how I made a very attractive and inexpensive Christmas tablecloth last year:

I bought a length of nylon net. I sewed some fringe all around the edge. With scraps of red and green felt I cut out holly and poinsetta leaves. Any other designs one prefers could be used.

I glued these cut-outs at the edge in each corner, using glue intended for mending clothes.

I put some of this glue on top of the felt designs and sprinkled them with glitter while the glue was wet.

It was absolutely beautiful. Any color cloth can be used under it or it may be used over a table. Ena Krawchuck

Dear Heloise:

I have many chrome appliances, breadboxes, canister sets, etc., and here's how I keep them bright and shiny!

I take a piece of paper toweling and slightly dampen it with clear undiluted amonia. Just rub until clean and dry and no streaks appear.

This method can also be used on any chrome stove, toaster, blender, etc. — Sparkling SWH

Dear Heloise:

When I use whipped cream, I always whip more than I expect to use at one meal.

What is left I put in small mounds on waxed paper or in a pan and place in the freezer until solidly frozen. They can then be put in a covered dish or plastic bag and used as needed. Mrs. R. J. Clements

Yes, I use this method when making only a few dishes of pudding or gelatin dessert. All I do, is remove the frozen mound of whipped cream, place it on top of the dessert and it thaws in a jiffy! Great for those dabs of left - over whipped cream. —Heloise

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

To make ironing a breeze, do it when you're feeling low. . .

You won't have to sprinkle. just cry on each wrinkle.

Get busy, make use of your woe! — Ann.

Dear Heloise:

Attractive and inexpensive Christmas bells can be made by covering paper cups with aluminum foil and hanging them on a pretty ribbon.

Insert a Christmas tree ornament hanger in the bottom of the cup and thread the ribbon through the loop. —J. G.

Dear Heloise:

When children are small and a locked cabinet for drugs is most needed, money to buy one is usually scarce. However, most families have an overnight case, attache case, or other bag with a lock, that is seldom used.

ne of these can be used for safe storage of dangerous drugs and it will not take up too much space in the bathroom. —Safety Reader

Dear Heloise:

This is for the unfortunate people who have to drive in the snow and fight the ice in parking lots and driveways, etc. . .

I suggest that they pop a box of sand, instead of salt, into the trunk of their car. Salt is very detrimental to cement. — A Cement Contractor.

TALE OF THE BENCHES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — An 88-year-old St. Petersburg citizen with a lively sense of humor went into a shop recently, leaving his wife sitting on one of the city's many benches that line its downtown streets.

Emerging from the store, he overheard two elderly women on a bench near his wife. They were talking about how terribly fresh men were toward lone ladies sitting on benches.

Smiling fiendishly, the man walked up to his wife in plain view of the two women. He told her what a good - looking woman she was, leaned over and kissed her.

Grads to Be Honored At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Wednesday that outstanding high school graduates would be honored at the White House again this year in a second annual presidential scholars program.

An independent commission will select the scholars. In 1964, 64 boys and 57 girls were named presidential scholars.

CRUISER CHECKS PHONER

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The city of Louisville installed phones for emergency police and fire department calls throughout the city.

Officers expected a rash of false alarms but were surprised that prankster calls are practically nonexistent.

Police aim to keep it that way. Every time a receiver is lifted on an emergency phone, police make it routine to dispatch a cruiser to the location of the box.

Personalines

Miss Penny Sabol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sabol, 1335 N. El Paso, will spend Christmas in Athens, Greece and the remaining holidays touring the Grecian islands.

She is studying during her junior year at the University of Bordeaux, France.

Miss Caorl Lennox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Lennox, 44 Friendship Lane, is home for the holidays. She has just returned from the University of Wisconsin, where she was helping install a data processing complex for Control Data, Inc. She leaves Dec. 26 for Palo Alto, Calif., where she is based with Control Data.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rhude, 214 N. Institute for the holidays will be their son, Laurence, his wife and five children from Sioux City, Iowa. Their five-day visit will begin Dec. 26. Mr. Rhude is the president of the National Business Training College in Sioux City. Also visiting the Rhudes is Mrs. Rhude's sister, Mrs. Alma Klovstad, who has already arrived from Diluth, Minn.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Colo. Springs: Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra® spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at Neusteters, Foundation Department, Third Floor adv.

DROP IN, SOMETIME

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — Henderson police received a report of a hole in a city street and dispatched officer Sherman Hill to investigate.

"Found hole. I'm in it," he radioed to headquarters.

Hill said the front wheel of his cruiser went through the surfacing which had been undermined by a leaking sewer.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Speak Up Now!

DEAR ABBY: I am a confirmed coward and do not have the nerve to confront my husband with the letters he is receiving at his place of business from his ex-wife. She discarded him for her own convenience, and when things did not work out for her she decided she wanted him back. In the meantime he had met and married me. I cannot prevent this woman from writing to my husband, but her letters begin used for dinner parties.

letter," which means that he is writing to her, too. That is what is breaking my heart, Abby.

We have been married only six months and he professes to love me deeply, yet he continues to deceive me by corresponding with his ex-wife. Her letters are love letters, complete with lipstick prints over her signature. How can I let my beloved husband know that he is torturing me without admitting that I invaded his privacy? —BROKEN - HEARTED BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: You can't. But don't let that stop you. Wait until you are both relaxed, unhurried and in the mood to talk, and then tell him exactly what you have told me. The next move will be his. And if he doesn't respect his marriage vows by forsaking ALL others, the next move is yours.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine had a bridal shower three weeks prior to her wedding. Right after the shower she broke her engagement. What should be done concerning the gifts? Thank you. —WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The gifts should be returned.

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a dinner party at someone's home. The table was set with place mats! I thought place mats were correct for luncheons, and table cloths were used for dinner parties.

The food was all dished up on plates in the kitchen and served directly to the guests, starting with the hostess first. There was a POTTED PLANT in the center of the table instead of the traditional cut flowers. Have the rules for entertaining properly changed? Please print this with your answer for others who are ignorant when it comes to etiquette. —WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLD: We are all "ignorant" on different subjects. Anyone who would criticize a well-meaning hostess who has done her best to entertain her guests is, in my opinion, more guilty of ignorance than the hostess.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M.P.: Grief can take care of itself. But in order to get the full value of joy, you must share it with someone.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

RUSTLER HAS BREAKS

CALGARY (AP)—Cattle rustlers are quicker at getaways than they used to be in the days of the "Old West."

Fred Newcombe, secretary of the Western Stock Growers' Association, complained that: "It's getting like the old bootlegging days" when a rustler was treated so leniently when caught that it paid him to continue rustling.

In one recent rustling case, Newcombe said, a rustler was fined $125—and allowed to keep $200 worth of stolen beef in his deep freeze.

"You're getting money for nothing, so you pay your fine, charge it against expenses, and go on."

He complained that a cattleman had no way of "locking his doors" to keep his property intact. "Transportation is so rapid now the rustler can be miles away before the theft is discovered."

Generally, he said, cattle owners think the punishment of rustlers went out with spanking children. "Maybe we should bring it back."

Broncos Announce Signing of Punter

DENVER (UPI)—The Denver Broncos announced the signing Thursday of Terry Nyquist, a quarterback and kicking specialist from Northern Michigan.

Nyquist, 6-2, 205 pounds, was signed as a free agent. He averaged 43.8 yards per punt this year for Northern Michigan and led the team in scoring.

Hunting and Fishing

By DICK MOORE

It's beginning to look like a banner year for whooping cranes. By Nov. 18 the count was up to 30 birds at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The wintering population of the endangered species began landing at Aransas on Oct. 9 after completing the 2,500 mile migration flight from summer breeding grounds in the Northwest Territories of Canada.

First arrival was a lone adult, followed on Oct. 20 by a family group (two adults, one juvenile) and six days later another family arrived. With several weeks still left in the fall migration period, the count stood at 30 birds — 22 adults and 8 young, including a set of twins.

Wildlife managers are heartened by the number of young produced this year. Fish and Wildlife Service officials say it's too early to get a final count, but the population already equals the number of birds (all adults) which spent last winter on Aransas and they are hopeful the other 10 adults will return, along with more young.

No reports have been received of any birds being shot by hunters along their long migration route. One young bird was found crippled from natural causes in Canada, however, and has been flown to the Monte Vista National Wildlife Refuge in Colorado where it is recuperating.

Every big game hunter, from the time he can jack a rifle, has some dream of hanging up a trophy that makes "the record book."

But whose record book? How, and by whom, is a trophy scored, judged and recognized?

The official arbiter of North American big game records is the Boone and Crockett Club. Organized by Teddy Roosevelt in 1887, the club's main purposes are to promote sportsmanship and the conservation of big game. In doing these things, it also serves as record-keeper to the American trophy hunter.

By Boone and Crockett standards, the trophy status of a big game animal is related to "head." Trophy value is a direct function of size and conformation of antler, horn or skull, and not to the general weight or size of the animal.

There are certain state or regional "records" that relate to the weight of a bear or elk, or to the total length of a mountain lion. But to rank in official national trophy lists, an elk must score a minimum number of points based on the sum of certain antler measurements, and a bear or lion is scored by skull measurements.

If you have shot an exceptional big game animal that you think would rank as a trophy, you can obtain an official scoring chart for that particular species from Mrs. Grancel Fitz, secretary, Boone and Crockett Club, 5 Tudor City Pl., New York 17, New York. Single scoring sheets are free. In quantity, they run $3.50 per hundred. But be sure to specify the species of game you are scoring!

Once you have this scoring chart in your eager fist, sit back and be patient for at least sixty days. This is the "drying" period to which a trophy must be subjected before it can be scored. At the end of this time, using a steel tape and carefully following instructions, measure your trophy, compute the scoring points, and return the chart to Mrs. Fitz.

If the trophy is of record rank, you will be notified of an official scorer in your area. He must be contacted for precise measurements of your trophy. There are Boone and Crockett Club scorers scattered all over the country. Ther's no available list, but many of these men are associated with state conservation departments. In any case, your own state conservation agency can probably put you in touch with an official scorer.

Every two years the North American Big Game Exhibition, sponsored by the Boone and Crockett Club, is held in New York. This is where the biennial award winners gather for official recognition — and to rehunt their trophies.

At each judging the officials hope for a new world's record, and now and then their hopes are realized. Maybe a new record has been taken during the previous hunting year. But sometimes it's an ancient trophy that no one bothered to record officially. The world's record elk head, entered in 1961 Exhibition, was shot in 1915. The record white-tailed deer rack was taken in 1918, but was not scored and entered in the record books until 1959.

This conjures up all sorts of speculations. Right now — dusty, cobwebbed and forgotten — a new world's record may be hanging from someone's attic wall.

However, many game records are quite recent. There may be a new black bear record coming out of upstate New York at the next judging. If so, it will displace a record bear shot in 1953 in Wisconsin. The record Wyoming moose was taken in 1952. Four of the ten top-ranking elk were shot in the 1950's, as were six of the world's ten best white-tailed deer trophies, and the record polar bear and grizzly.

As a sport, trophy-hunting has been exposed to some degree of ridicule and condemnation. But no matter how you cut it, it still sums up to this: a man and a rifle, dedicated to quality hunting, eager to undergo considerable difficulty to have that hunting, and unwilling to compromise and settle for anything less!

U.S. Soldier, Girl Friend, Flee to Reds

FULDA, Germany (AP) — A 20-year-old American soldier drove to the East German border with a girl and the two fled into Communist territory, West German police say.

U.S. Army authorities confirmed that a private first class was missing but would not identify him until relatives were notified.

Police said the young man, wearing civilian clothes, drove with a girl close to the Iron Curtain border near the hamlet of Mansbach on Wednesday.

Border guards saw the soldier and the girl, presumably a German, walk across the border. They were met by three East German guards who apparently were waiting for the pair.

The soldier appeared to have something hidden under his hat, the police said.

The East German guards went to the soldier's car, standing on West German soil, and rummaged through it until Western guards approached. Then they withdrew.

German police and U.S. investigators searched the car and found several recording tapes which they confiscated.

Repealing of Part Of Labor Law Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says seven labor leaders and President Johnson discussed the subject of repealing part of the labor law that permits state right-to-work laws when they met at the White House Thursday.

But Meany told newsmen after the session "we didn't seek a commitment."

Labor leaders are pressing for repeal of the labor law section permitting states to enact laws which forbid the union shop. Meany tied the question to the nation's economic level.

"The right-to-work states have the lowest per capita income, and they are a drag on the whole economy," he said.

Both Meany and White House press secretary George Reedy said that when the right-to-work subject came up in general discussion the President made clear that he stands on the Democratic platform, which calls for repeal of the provision.

Mountaineers Gain Victory In Overtime

CHADRON, Neb. (UPI)—Western State College of Gunnison, Colo., defeated Chadron State in the second game of Chadron's state basketball tournament here Thursday night, 76-74, in overtime.

The lead changed hands six times in the first half which ended 33-30 Western.

With 20 seconds remaining in the second half, Chadron freshman guard Marlin Green hit a 25-foot jump shot to put the game in overtime at 66 all.

Western dominated the overtime period, led by Roosevelt Robinson and Bill Marron.

Robinson grabbed team and game honors with 27 points.

Green led Chadron with 14.

Western will vie for the championship tonight against New Mexico Highland University of Las Vegas, N.M.

The consolation game will be played by Chadron State and Sioux Falls College of South Dakota.

Mrs. F. Kenny Promoted by Welfare Unit

The promotion of Mrs. Frances H. Kenny from child welfare worker to the top supervisory position in the public assistance division of the welfare department has been announced by Vard V. Gray, county welfare director.

Mrs. Kenny has been employed by the department since December, 1953, with continuous assignment since that time to the child welfare unit. Recently her work brought her in contact with some of the mothers receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

Mrs. Kenny received her bachelor of arts degree from Stanford University. A Master's degree from the New York School of Retailing in New York City, and a master's degree in social work from the University of Washington.

She has held various public welfare positions ranging from public assistance case worker to county welfare director and state field supervisor in Nebraska, prior to her employment in Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Kenny resides with her husband, Glen, at 2028 North Cooper in Colorado Springs.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Womp tells George he will play his flute and put Santa and all of Fairyland to sleep. George tricks Womp into bending close to him and then clamps his jaws around Womp's nose.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN
GEORGE CAN'T SPEAK

Womp, the manwitch, leaped into the air.

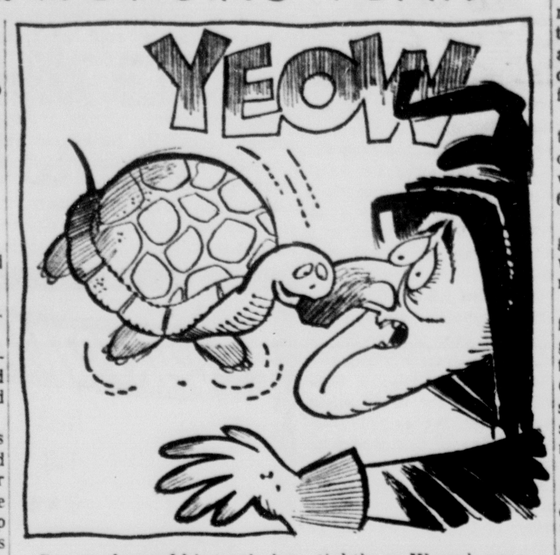
"Ouch Ouch!" he hollered. "Let me go!"

But George clamped his turtle jaws as tight as he could around Womp's nose and would not let go.

Womp put both his hands around the turtle's shell and pulled and pulled. The harder he pulled, the tighter George locked his jaws, and Womp felt as if he were pulling off his own nose.

He began to dance crazily back into the circle of the audience. He stamped his feet and waved his hands and screamed at the top of his voice. George shut his eyes and held on.

Meanwhile the Chipmunk Chatterboxes played on and the audience shouted and stamped their feet. It appeared that Womp was merely carried away by the music and no one paid the least attention to his gyrating.



George clamped his turtle jaws tightly on Womp's nose.

But suddenly the chipmunks were finished and everyone was quiet. Everyone, that is, except Womp who hollered louder than ever. The fairies and the animals and the Storybook folk looked at him in amazement, but the manwitch was hopping around so wildly they couldn't tell what was going on.

Santa Claus got out of his rocking chair and said sternly, "This is very unseemly behavior. We must have quiet for the next performer who will be George, the Singing Turtle."

Womp shrieked and spun like a top. Suddenly the Snowman, who had been searching for the turtle, saw what was handing on the manwitch's nose.

"Good gracious!" he exlaimed. "George has gone out of his mind!" He ran up to Womp and put his big snowy arms around him to stop his spinning. "George!" he shouted. "It's your turn to sing!"

"Get him off! Get him off!" begged Womp, standing still and staring wildly at the snowman.

"For goodness' sake, George, let go" begged the Snowman, tapping George on the back. But the turtle shook his head furiously, pulling Womp's nose harder than ever.

Santa Claus stepped forward and said quietly, "This is a Music Festival and not a circus. Let go at once, George, and explain yourself if you can."

Instantly George let go and dropped to the ground. With a great sigh of relief he turned to explain everything to Santa and warn him about the wicked Womp. But alas! when he tried to speak he couldn't move his mouth! He had clenched Womp's nose so tightly he had dislocated his own jaw and the only sound he could make was "Ahhhhh" which sounded like a cross between a groan and the sound a child makes when the doctor is looking down his throat.

Womp saw at once what had happened. He stepped right up to Santa and said, "I never expected to be treated this way when I came to the Music Festival to perform."

"Are you a performer" asked Santa absently. He was looking down at George and shaking his head sadly. He was amazed and disappointed that the turtle would behave so badly.

"Indeed, yes," said Womp. "I play the flute and I should like to play for you now."

George said "Ahhhh! Ahhhhhh!" and shook his head frantically.

"It's George's turn," declared the Snowman. "He wants to sing."

"Ahhhhh!" went George furiously and it was clear he could neither sing nor speak.

"Shall I take his place" asked Womp politely.

"I suppose so," said Santa. "Although I am sorry not to have heard the turtle sing, for I have heard great things about his voice. Well, we will have a break for luncheon and then we will hear you play the flute."

"Ahhhhh!" moaned George. "Ahhhhh!"

But no one could tell what he was trying to say.

Guantanamo Self-Sufficient With Water

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten months after Fidel Castro turned off the tap, the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo has become fully self-sufficient for its fresh water.

The Navy said today that the third and final unit of a plant to convert seawater into fresh water went into operation Dec. 6.

The plant produces 2.2 million gallons of fresh water a day — well above the normal requirements of the base's population.

When a new power plant is finished next month, the emergency prompted construction at the base will be completed and Guantanamo will be in shape to survive regardless of its being surrounded by hostile Communists.

President Johnson ordered that the base, which Castro has demanded be given up by the United States, should be made entirely self-sufficient and independent of any water from Castro's territory.

Until Cuba's action, the base was using about two million gallons of water a day — about 200,000 gallons a day less than the new desalinization plant produces.

While the three unit plant was being installed, Navy tankers shuttled back and forth between Florida and the Guantanamo base. In all, they hauled more than 293 million gallons of fresh water to Guantanamo.

Meanwhile, the Navy continued to carry out Johnson's orders gradually to reduce the number of wives and children of servicemen living on the base.

Last February there were almost 3,000 such dependents living in the 45 square mile U.S. enclave. This total has been reduced to fewer than 1,600 and all wives and children will be gone by February 1966.

At the same time, the Navy has been reducing its dependence on workers coming on the reservation from Castro's Cuba each day and returning there at night.

Last February, there were about 2,200 commuting workers who were paid in dollars and brought Castro's Cuba about $5 million. This commuting force has now been reduced to about 740 workers with an annual pay roll of about $1.5 million.

Firemen Busy In November

The Colorado Springs fire department had a busy month in November, and will probably be even busier during December.

The department answered 95 alarms, six of which were false and five due to faulty alarm system.

Fire Chief Fred H. Lausch said the department handled 3,553 radio transmissions in the past month, spent 730 man hours in training, drill and study, cars traveled 3,843 miles and trucks 671 miles. Thirty nine bicycles were licensed. Twenty four resusciator calls were made.

The fire department is now covering twice as much territory as it did four years ago and has thousands of new homes and businesses to protect against fire. There will be no new fire station construction in 1965.

It now takes the fire department about 10 minutes running time to get from No. 4 station to the far southeast fringe of the city limits, which is about three times longer than recommended.

KIOWA at TEJON — Est. 1872

CAPITOL STUFF

By TED LEWIS

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is showing signs of developing his own hard-line foreign policy which in essence is more concerned with having the consensus support of American voters than in giving the U. S. a high popularity rating abroad.

UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson's tough rebuke of African and other nations critical of the paratroop rescue mission in the Congo pointed up the policy shift. It reflected according to administration scorces the President's determination to act on the world stage in behalf of his efforts to keep the peace regardless of whether American prestige abroad suffers in the process.

This is a break with both the Eisenhower and Kennedy traditions. There was almost an obsession with the idea that before this government made a significant move abroad there had to be assurance from free world capitals that our prestige rating would not be impaired.

That "prestige abroad" issue figured big in the 1960 Presidential campaign. Kennedy said our prestige had been diminished during the eight years of the Eisenhower Administration. Nixon said it hadn't. Kennedy said if elected he would build up U. S. prestige abroad.

Now, in effect, the Johnson Administration has begun to show more interest in tackling problems and finding solutions than in what the reaction abroad is to our approach.

This is considered here to be the real significance of the Stevenson UN speech, which, of course, was cleared with the White House. The next step is almost certain to be curtailment of foreign aid to specific countries which are fomenting trouble in Africa. Egypt and Algeria are first in line for this crackdown. Other new African nations which have been playing footsie with the Congo Communist rebels will be next to feel the whipcracking.

The Action Will Be Fast

There is a definite determination to act quickly on every knotty foreign problem susceptible to early disposal.

And in the process the United States Information Agency is not going to be asked to make a global survey to determine ahead of time whether our prestige abroad is shaky or firm on the issues.

Hard decisions must be made in South Viet Nam. U. S. self-interest is most likely to be the deciding factor. It is not admitted yet, but in 1965 a stable Vietnamese government must be produced or else. The "or else" would be Americans withdrawal through the face-saving device of having the incumbent Saigon government, whatever it is, request the U. S. to pull out.

In this connection, the Administration is now beginning to find flaws in the so-called domino theory, which holds that if one Southeast Asian country falls to the Communists, all others will too, one by one, like dominoes in a row. In some quarters it is being argued that Thailand would be a much better base for American military support in Southeast Asia than Viet Nam.

Should there be such a "neutralization" solution of the Viet Nam problem, it is obvious that U. S. prestige in the free world would suffer. LBJ's own popularity rating at home would also suffer. But, if so, it would be better to have the downward shift at home come in 1965 when it would have less impact on the 1968 Presidential elections than if it came much later.

Allies Are Not Quick to Help

And it should be remembered tha the Administration is somewhat put out with our allies anyway for their lack of response to our long-standing requests that they join us in supplying military equipment and training cadres in South Viet Nam. So how they would react is not bothering anyone at the top level here, which is certainly a change for the better.

The change toward a down-to-earth foreign policy does not mean that the Johnson - Rusk team is going out of its way to lose friends and make free-world enemies.

It means only that the President has no intention, it appears, to have his efforts to keep the peace of the world stultified by Allied reaction.

In almost every speech he has made dealing with foreign affairs, Johnson has stressed his willingness to "sit down and reason' together" with any nation, or nations, interested in the pursuit of peace. This olive branch will continue to be extended, but Johnson can, of course, be tough when the occasion calls for it.

And in reaching controversial decisions in this area, the Johnson Administration's govern - ment-by-consensus is clearly going to be more concerned with the consensus at home than abroad.

Vote Called LBJ's Mandate

The November election returns have been interpreted as basically an overwhelming vote of support for Johnson's leadership role on the world scene. The mandate, if thus construed, gave LBJ carte blanche in his global operations.

Certainly it did not require him to increase this ephemeral whimsy of U.S. prestige abroad at the risk of hampering his efforts to keep the peace.

The hard-nosed policy which is now beginning to surface has elements in it which have the distinct flavor of Dean Acheson. The former Secretary of State has recently been highly critical of our ventures into the African scene. He thinks our policy toward that developing continent should be more of absention than intrusion at least until the new nations have developed stability.

Tropical Animals Like Cold Weather

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Animals at the Portland Zoo reacted in unexpected fashion this week as a cold spell brought temperatures down to 6 degrees.

The penguins huddled in heated quarters, the polar bears crept into caves, and the Canadian honking geese stayed indoors eating grain.

Things were different with the tropical animals:

The lions slept on their outdoor pads and the elephants stomped around their outdoor compound breaking ice.

Coach Feels Gladiators Improving

By MORRIS FRASER
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Don Hanson, coach of Widefield's ice-bound Gladiators, was holding court Thursday night after Cheyenne had wrapped up an 8-0 City Hockey League victory.

"We look a lot better than our first game," Hanson began. (Palmer beat the Glads, 11-0.) "Our checking is much improved and we're starting to come out from the nets a bit. But there's still a long way to go."

Hanson mentioned a pair of penalties on wing Byron Brian for leaving his feet to play a check. "I don't think he left his feet on one of those. He just hit a bigger man and got bounced up in the air."

Widefield now has gone through four games without a single goal, but Hanson is not as discouraged as one would think.

"Remember when Wasson first started playing?" he queried a listener who was not around five years ago. "We're not as inexperienced as they were, and now Wasson has a pretty good team.

"If we can keep the kids on their skates and get an offense moving, we could do some damage in a year or two."

The Glads, small though they are, checked well against the Indians and broke up many patterns, covering the Tribe's wings well. But the Cheyenne's skating experience was too much.

Center Jeff Thatcher started the scoring with a short rap with three minutes left in the first period. Then followed a pair of goals by Don Heyliger, another by Thatcher and single tallies by Doug Heyliger, Malcolm Moore, Dave Love and Ray Bruce.

Don Heyliger moved into the league scoring lead with his two goals and brace of assists, raising his total to 11 points. Twin brother Doug moved into second place with a goal and two assists for nine points.

Cheyenne puts its 3-0 record on the line Monday against the Palmer Terrors (3-1) in what Indian coach Bill McDonald calls "the key game of the year."

Wasson Hosts South Rebs; Go to Lakewood Saturday

Wasson's Thunderbirds resume their quest for a strong non-conference showing tonight when they meet South Denver at the Palmer Gymnasium. The junior varsity game is scheduled for 6:15 with the varsity contest to follow at around 8.

Sub-par shooting has tumbled the Thunderbirds to defeats in two of their first three starts but the additional week of practice plus a feeling that the club should begin to jell will make the local quintet a slight favorite over the Denver League representative.

The game will be the first of two for Wasson over the weekend. Saturday the T-Birds will travel to Lakewood where they will confront the Tigers from the Jefferson County League for the initial time on the basketball floor. Lakewood and Wasson are storied rivals on the gridiron, with the latest edition being the Tigers' 20-6 triumph in this fall's state finals.

Coach Dick Westbay, who has been fighting the naturally slow transition of several of his key players from football to basketball, will start a lineup that will see only one change over the unit that took the floor a week ago. Randy Stanley, a strong 6-4 junior who has displayed increasing finesse around the backboards, will move in at a forward. Stanley, who has been one of the top contributors to the Wasson cause in each of the first three starts this winter, pumped in 14 points and was a standout in the rebounding game in the unsuccessful comeback against West Denver last Saturday.

Wasson will enter the weekend twin bill with a 1-2 record after losing a 45-38 decision to Denver Lincoln in the opener, easily defeating Cherry Creek, 68-49, and then falling to West Denver 68-62 following a remarkable comeback last Saturday.

The Thunderbirds, who have suffered through a rash of mechanical imperfections, have nevertheless shown that extra bit of hustle which should eventually combine with the expected improvement fundamentally to convert the club into a strong challenger for all comers. Wasson had shooting percentages of just over 20 per cent in the loss to Lincoln and hit only slightly over 30 per cent against West Denver. Veterans such as Jim Smith, Charlie Steel, and Mike Martin, all members of the late-finishing football team, are expected to trigger the revival after below-normal performances in the early games.

Those three will be on the floor along with Stanley when the T-Birds go against the Denver team tonight. The fifth spot will be occupied by Rick Pettigrew, a keen 6-1 junior who is one of the real bright spots in the Thunderbird future. Others such sa Rod Wells, Bob Lynn., Dave VanDerWege, Bob Toof, and Craig Gillette stand ready to move in immediately. Westbay, who has taken advantage of this exceptional balance earlier, has indicated that he will substitute frequently again this weekend.

South Denver will enter tonight's struggle with a 0-2 record, including an 11 point loss to Palmer, Wasson's cross-town rival. That came in the first start of the winter for both of those clube.

Lakewood, loser to Pueblo South by eight points last Friday, will be one of the year's more interesting opponents for the T-Birds. The two schools have not met on the basketball floor, but their titanic battles in football are becoming a part of Colorado football legend. The Tigers have never lost to Wasson in football, but the T-Birds have always been one of their toughest opponents and Saturday's basketball game figures to continue a rivalry which has become fierce. To add to that prospect, it also appears to be a toss-up with both clubs depending heavily on the footballers who reported late.

The two games will be Wasson's last before the Christmas break. The team will conclude its non-conference schedule with an afternoon meeting with Laramie, Wyo., Dec. 30 at the Palmer Gym. The South Central League chase will open the first weekend in January.

WINS STARTING ROLE—Randy Stanley, powerful 6-4 junior, will move into a starting role for the Wasson Thunderbirds tonight when the local club hosts South Denver at the Palmer Gymnasium. Stanley has been a key figure in each of the 'Birds first three games as a reserve and following his 14 point effort last Saturday, Coach Dick Westbay moved him in with the first five. Wasson Grapplers Dump Tribe for Sixth Win

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Undefeated Wasson ran off a string of six straight individual wins Thursday night en route to a decisive 30-15 triumph over rival Palmer in the opener of the South Central League wrestling season at the Palmer Gymnasium.

The Thunderbirds had only a three point lead after the first four matches but then picked up five straight decisions to put the match out of reach. Yogi Grandcourt capped the T-Bird effort with a pin at 165 before Palmer's strong men came on to post victories in the final two weights.

The Terrors' Don Nicks and Dan Costella of Wasson battled to a 2-2 draw in the 95 pound opener but Don Chavez fashioned a furious final period comeback to put the Thunderbirds ahead to stay in the 103 match. Behind 8-2 entering the last two minute session, Chavez reversed his opponent, Charles Brown, into a near fall to cut the margin to 8-6. He then pulled the match out with a pin with just 32 seconds remaining.

Ed Abeyta put the T-Birds ahead by eight points with a 13-7 decision over Dennis Quintana in an action-packed 112 pound match but Doug Jones of Palmer trimmed five points away from the margin with a pin in 3:23 at 120.

Then came the run of T-Bird decisions, with Jim Ranals scoring a 5-0 triumph at 127, Paul Briggs coming from a 3-1 deficit to post a 6-4 win at 133, Jack Jenkins picking up a 3-2 decision on riding time at 138, Bob Fittje rallying for a 7-5 win at 145, and Rick Clark holding off a strong effort in the final seconds by Frank Bernard to snatch a 2-0 victory at 154.

Grandcourt, a state tournament veteran at the same weight, had a 5-0 lead when he pinned stubborn Steve Sanchez at 429 in the 165 pound match. But at 180, the T-Birds' highly-regarded Bud Hoffpauir was surprised by strong Jessie Bragg of the Terrors who registered a 5-3 decision. Two of the points against Bragg were a result of illegal holds.

Ron Smith, the Terrors' standout heavyweight, was forced into the second period by Wasson's Royce Beek but took only 56 seconds of that stanza to pick up a fall.

The Wasson "B" team, trailing 7-2 in the early going, reeled off nine pins in the final 10 matches to bury the Terror Bees, 47-12.

Baseball Record Set At Mexico's Gate

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Baseball League broke all previous attendance records with 2,185,260 admissions during the 1964 season, officials announced today.

Mexico leads all minor leagues for the year. The Triple A Pacific Coast League was second with 1,726,560.

The Mexican League has eight teams. Last year, with seven competing, attendance was 1,898,762.

Penn State gave up only three touchdowns in its last five games.

Three WRL Non-Loop Games Set Tonight

Will Rogers League basketball teams wind up their pre-holiday and non-league activity this weekend and early next week with most of the action coming Saturday night on a four-game schedule.

Canon City's Tigers are the busiest, with a home game with Gunnison Thursday evening, then traveling to Trinidad Catholic's court tonight, and finishing out their three-game set in the host role to Pueblo South of the South Central League on Saturday.

Other teams with a heavy dose this weekend are early front runner Harrison and Widefield, under the new direction of coach Gary Richardson. Harrison is to entertain Rocky Ford of the Southern League tonight and journey to Pueblo County on Saturday, while Widefield hosts Pueblo East of the SCL tonight and goes to Boulder Fairview the next night.

Then rounding out the pre-Christmas slate will be a road game by Cheyenne Mountain on Monday against Ft. Morgan, and on Tuesday night Air Academy High will be the guest of Palmer.

All-in-all, it could be a revealing comparison between the Will Rogers and the usually rugged South Central League with three inter-league games on deck. The highlight will be the clash between Academy High and the first meeting in basketball next Tuesday, but tonight's action will be headed by the invasion of early SCL favorite Pueblo East into the Widefield gym.

Widefield won its first of the season last weekend against Fountain of the Pikes Peak League, but suffered three defeats in competition against SCL opposition in the Will Rogers Tournament at the Gladiators stronghold two weeks ago. It could be interesting to see if the Glads come out battling against East.

Harrison's match with Rocky Ford tonight will be a return go with the Meloneers, a team they defeated 63-56 last week on the road. The tall Panthers tacked two victories onto their record in latest activity, with an impressive 75-72 triumph over St. Mary's of Colorado Springs last Friday. Harrison will also take on a scrappy crew at Pueblo County, Saturday.

The rest of the Saturday schedule has the Demons of Golden and the JeffCo League testing the smallish cagers of Academy with the Kadets trying to use the home court to advantage for their second win in six, and Widefield takes on the Knights of Fairview near Boulder.

This will wind up the games until after the first of the year when the Will Rogers team will settled down for the pennant chase. From early indications, it's Cheyenne and Harrison as the teams to beat for the title altdo all five WRL teams could surprise by the middle of the season.

Tigers Topple Gunnison

Behind the shooting of Dave Eslick, the Canon City basketball team managed to shake off a four-game losing streak as the Tigers launched their weekend slate on a happy note Thursday night.

Eslick poured in 23 points to spearhead the Tigers' decisive 70-42 non-league triumph over Gunnison Thursday night at the Canon City Gymnasium. Mickey Gann and Drew Cronk each tallied 12 and 10 respectively to round out the other Canon City basketballers scoring in the double figures.

The victory over Gunnison gave the Tigers a 2-4 won-loss record in non-league competition.

Alamosa Cage Tourney Slated

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UPI)—The annual "Top of the Nation" basketbal tournament gets underway in this chilly southern Colorado community Dec. 28 with eight teams, including last year's champions, bidding for the title.

The first round gets underway with Oklahoma Central State College and Western New Mexico, Washburn University and Yankton College, defending champions St. Josephs of New Mexico versus William Jewel and Chadron State against Adams State.

The tournament winner will be decided Dec. 30 in the single-elimination match.

St. Josephs is favored to repeat as tournament winner.

Mustang-Trojan Set Heads PPL

Manitou Springs finds itself in the peculiar position tonight of coming in the underdog against a team it once beat.

The Mustangs basketball squad hosts Fountain in a non-Pikes Peak League encounter. They beat the Trojams, 53-51, in the St. Mary's Tournament two weeks ago. Since then, Fountain has beaten Fountain Valley, 52-40, a team which Manitou fell before, 60-51, Tuesday night.

The Manitou-Fountain clash heads a slate of 11 games on tap this weekend involving Pikes Peak League teams. Salida, pre-season choice to repeat as PPL titlist after winning the state AA championship last year, totes a 1-2 record against Alamosa Friday, the team that handed the Spartans an 87-46 licking last week. Saturday Salida must face South Central League power Pueblo Central in an afternoon game.

The weekend action will wrap up pre-season play for all teams but Crowley County before the pitter-patter of little feet is heard on the nation's roofs Dec 24. The Chargers are entered in the Lamar Tournament Dec. 22-23.

In other games tonight, Fowler hosts Las Animas, Buena Vista travels to Florence and Leadville goes to Granby. Saturday it's Manitou at Monument, Castle Rock at Fountain, Westcliffe at Buena Vista, Fowler at Crowley County and Monte Vista at Leadville.

Leadville owns the only perfect record in the PPL, garnishing a 2-0 mark against Oak Creek and Krembling.

League play will start for all teams Jan. 8. Manitou will travel to Fountain for the third meeting of the year between the two teams, Salida hosts Buena Vista, Crowley County is at Florence and Leadville is at Fowler.

Tigers Host OCC Before Moving to Western Meet

Colorado College's basketball team concludes its pre-Christmas home schedule tonight when the Tigers host touring Oklahoma Christian College of Oklahoma City at the City Auditorium. Tipoff time is set for 8.

Red Eastlack's CC team will be resuming action following a 13 day layoff that covered the final examination period at the local campus. Workouts during that time have been scattered and tonight's contest will serve as the primary tuneup for the Tigers' entry in the eight team holiday tournament at California Western College in San Diego.

CC's last appearance was a pleasant experience, at least for the local club. It produced a 69-58 victory over St. Mary's of the Plains, a feat which equalled the team's entire win total of last year. The Tigers were 1-19 over the 1963-64 campaign and a 72-30 loss to New Mexico U. plus a 111-57 whacking by Colorado State College in the first two starts of this season had lengthened a losing streak to 10 straight before the St. Mary's club took a tumble at the City Aud.

Thus a win tonight would boost the Tigers to the .500 level before they depart for what promises to be a strenuous task on the West Coast. CC will be one of the busiest teams around during the holiday season since, following the three day affair at San Diego, the Tigers return to host their own four team tournament at the Palmer Gymnasium Dec. 29-30 the University of Chicago, Grinnell, and Knox College will be the visitors for that one.

Oklahoma Christian will arrive here as something of an unknown, at least as far as this year's basketball team is concerned. The Tigers' lone indication as to the visitors' strength was to come last night when the Oklahoma team opened its swing through Colorado against Adams State at Alamosa. Eastlack is familiar with the strong Adams State team and the outcome of that game should provide some idea as to how the Tigers may fare.

The CC coach is set on four of his starters for tonight's battle but the decision on the fifth may wait until near game time. Dave Herrington, the team captain and its top scorer to date, will open at one guard position with Steve Schilder at the other. Herrington's 24 points against St. Mary's of the Plains was the top individual performance by a Tiger so far this season.

Garrett Bouton, a 6-5 sophomore from Littleton, will start at the post position with veteran Pete Susemihl, a 6-1 junior from Grand Junction, slated to go at one forward. The other forward spot will be filled by either John Anderson, a 6-3 freshman from Woodstock, Ill., or Christopher Grant, a 6-2 freshman from Denver.

Also scheduled for action is a new arrival on the CC basketball scene, Phil LeCuyer. A 6-3 junior, LeCuyer was a member of the Greeley state championship team of 1962 and was one of the outstanding prep stars in the state that winter. He has been at Colorado College since his freshman year but elected to pass up basketball until suddenly reporting early this week. Eastlack reported that LeCuyer is in good enough physical condition to aid the Tigers immediately and, although he will not start tonight, he will probably be in the lineup before the game is too old.

Following tonight's contest, the Tigers will leave Sunday morning for San Diego where they will meet host California Western in the first round of that tournament at 9 p.m. Monday. Other first round games there will match the University of San Diego and Utah Southern College, Marine Corps Recruit Depot and Ft. Mugue, and Hamilton AFB and Phib Pac. Cal Western is the defending champion.

Vidakovich No. 2 Free Thrower

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Colorado State University basketball player was named among statistical leaders in figures released Thursday from New York.

Officials said Tom Vidakovich of CSU ranked second in free-throw accuracy, hitting 16 of 17 free throws in four games for a 94 per cent record.

He trailed Utah State's Wayne Estes who hit 96 per cent of his free throws. Estes also ranked third in the nation in scoring with 134 points in four games.

Violets Triumph for Victory No. 636 In School's 1,000th Basketball Game

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York University Violets, regarded as the flop of the college basketball season a year ago, don't miss when it comes to historic milestones.

They played the 1,000th game in the school's history Thursday night and won it just as they did their 600th game against Baylor, their 700th game against Duke, their 800th against Rutgers and their 900th against Toronto.

This time they whipped Penn State 82-73 in the feature of a doubleheader at Baltimore's Civic Center. It ended a five-game wining streak of the Nittany Lions and was the Violets' second triumph in three starts of the young season.

Ray Bennett, with 29 points, paced the Violets to their 636th victory against 364 defeats in their 1,000 games.

Tenth-ranked St. Louis, the only team in The Asscoaited Press Top Ten to see action, spoiled what amounted to a homecoming for All-America Bill Bradley by defeating Princeton 90-71. Bradley, a native of nearby Crystal City, Mo., scored 43 points for the Ivy League champs, but got little help as the Tigers suffered their second defeat in seven starts.

Iowa State, playing at home, scored the surprise of the night. The Cyclones, beaten in five starts, won their first game by upsetting Drake 82-75.

Houston beat Texas A&M 59-49 and with two straight victories won the unofficial championship of the Bluebonnet Bowl Classic. Auburn rebounded from its Houston defeat on Wednesday night to whip Rice 94-71 in the other half of the Bluebonnet doubleheader at Houston.

Pete Soker's jump shot with eight seconds left gave North Carolina State a 65-64 victory over Fordham in New York while Ron Krick's 22 points led Cincinnati to a 76-72 home court triumph over Kansas.

Utah State opened a road trip by losing to Bradley 75-69 while the touring Colorado State University team went down before Duquesne 75-56 at Pittsburgh. Providence fared better on the road, defeating Creighton 95-90. Unbeaten Connecticut also won on the road, making it six in a row by defeating Maine 89-62.

In other games Wake Forest whipped Virginia 83-75, Furman went overtime to beat South Carolina 79-71 and Manhattan downed Mt. St. Mary's 80-72 in the other game of the Baltimore twin bill.

The Christmas holiday tournament extravaganzas open in force tonight with first round games in the U. of Kentucky Invitational, the Virginia Tech Invitational, Vanderbilt Invitational, Evansville Invitational, Sun Devil Classic and Milwaukee Classic.

Duquesne Stuns Rams, Holds Wright to 10 Points

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Duquesne handed Colorado State University its second loss of the basketball season Thursday with a stunning 75-56 defeat of the highly-rated Fort Collins, Colo., team.

The Dukes held CSU's Lonnie Wright to only 10 points, well below his 21-point-a-game average, in picking up the win. Dennis Green had 12 points to lead the losers and Tom Vidakovich had 11.

Ron Willard had 26 points and Willie Somerset 22 to lead the Dukes to victory. Duquesne had a 27-22 halftime lead and hit at a 41 per cent clip from the field to the Rams' 30 per cent.

Duquesne clicked on 23 out of 27 foul attempts. The Pittsburgh club had a commanding 47-33 lead with only four minutes left in the game.

The loss gave CSU a 4-2 record. The Rams will take a break tonight before clashing with a rugged St. Bonaventure club Saturday to wind up their Eastern tour.

Colorado State University made a dramatic come-from-behind victory Wednesday to defeat previously unbeaten Cornell, 67-65.

Thunderbird Swimmers Win Again

Wasson's swimming team posted its second victory in two days over a local rival Thursday afternoon, defeating Cheyenne Mountain 73-22 at the Wasson pool.

The victory, which was the Thunderbirds' fourth of the year and left them unbeaten in dual meet competition, saw the powerful northside team win every event except one. Bill Kinner of Cheyenne copped the 100 yard butterfly to keep the Indians from being blanked.

HARDIN IS OUT—Wayne Hardin and Capt. William Busik shake hands for photographers after announcing Thursday that Hardin is resigning as head football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy. Busik, Academy athletic director, said a mutually satisfactory arrangement had been made on Hardin's contract, which had four years to run. The announcement confirmed what had been rumored for 10 days. (AP Wirephoto)

Scovil May Have Edge on Navy Job

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy answered one question Thursday with the dumping of Wayne Hardin as head football coach but left unanswered the name of his successor.

Doug Scovil, administrative assistant to Hardin and coach of the Navy quarterbacks, was believed to have had the inside track for the job and still may have.

But the Naval Academy, shaken by the publicity over Hardin's obviously forced resignation in a personality clash with superiors, appeared in no hurry to designate the new mentor.

Capt. William S. Busik, director of athletics, said candidates would be interviewed during the next several weeks and would include any from outside the academy as well as those on the present staff. An announcement will be made after the first of the year, he said.

It is believed an insider would have the edge if for no other reason than the job now carries a collateral administrative post in the Navy athletic recruiting system, which the present staff is familiar with. The additional job was written in for Hardin in a new five-year contract signed last Feb. 18.

Hardin's case also raised a question as to what a five-year contract means at Navy. Capt. Busik said all academy contracts are open to renegotiation each year, regardless of length. The renegotiation of Hardin's led to his ouster.

Hardin, resisting dismissal, found he did not have the contract he thought he did. It was believed that the final settlement worked out with lawyers paid him not much more than a year's salary of the four remaining at $19,000 annually on his contract.

Both the 37-year-old coach and Busik, speaking for the academy's Athletic Board of Control, referred to it in separate prepared statements as a "just" and "mutually-satisfying" settlement. But it was known Hardin was not completely satisfied.

Hardin formally resigned after 10 years at the academy as an assistant and head coach with the reasons still left to speculation.

The best guesses were that the coach and Capt. Busik, now completing his third year as athletic director, just didn't hit it off personally although publicly their relations appear cordial.

A variety of incidents were reported, including a clash over a Hardin interview during a coaching clinic in Texas last August in which he slighted — at least in Navy eyes — chances of having another nationally ranked team this year. Hardin reportedly threatened to resign but the dispute simmered down.

Hardin's recent losing season of 3-6-1, including his first loss to Army in his six years as head coach, also didn't enhance his position any when it came around to discussing his future. His over-all record was 38-20-2 and he took two nationally ranked Navy teams into postseason bowls.

Another motivating reason, it is understood, is that the academy decided against him as the eventual successor to Edgar E. (Rip) Miller, civilian assistant director of athletics who may retire within the next few years. This was the job Hardin had lined up in his last contract.

Navy presumably will choose his successor with both jobs in mind.

Knicks Snap Winning Streak of Weary Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At the pace the Boston Celtics are moving in the National Basketball Association schedule, a travel day has become a day of rest.

The weary Celtics got that day of rest today while moving on to St. Louis for a Saturday night meeting with the Hawks, their fourth game of the week.

Boston had its seven-game victory string snapped Thursday night by the Knickerbockers the "neutral" Rhode Island Auditorium in Providence. The Knicks beat the Celtics 113-112 for their first victory over the defending champions in five meetings this year.

Len Chappell scored three points with 32 seconds remaining to put New York ahead 111-110. And then a home town hero, Johnny Egan, combined with the veteran Tom Gola to pull off a typical Celtics' tactic, a steal, and Gola fed Egan for the basket that iced the verdict.

Chappell and Egan, a former Providence star, both wound up with 21 points apiece, though they had to settle for second best behind rookie Willis Reed with 22.

Johnny Havlicek topped Boston, grabbing game-scoring honors with 23 points. Tom Heinsohn had 20 points and Bill Russell 19.

The Celtics defeated the Hawks earlier in the week in a double header at New York. Then they returned to Boston to whip the San Francisco Warriors.

Miami's Rick Barry Tops Basketballers in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry, the New Jersey youth from Roselle Park who went south to play basketball for the University of Miami Hurricanes, is off to a good start towards his goal of becoming college basketball's No. 1 scorer this season.

Barry scored 55 points in Miami's opening game against Tampa, then reeled off 171 more against Duquesne, Pitt, LaSalle, Niagara and St. John's of New York for 226 points in six games.

This gave Barry an average of 37.7 and the top spot in the first weekly statistics released Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau for games through Dec. 12.

Fred Hetzel of Davidson, who played in only three games, was close behind with an average of 37.3. Hetzel tallied 112 points, including 53 against Furman.

Wayne Estes of Utah state with an average of 33.5, Henry Finkel of Dayton 31.8 and John Austin of Boston College 30.5 round out the top five scorers.

Estes is the best foul shooter with 26 of 27 for .963 while Tony Kimball of Connecticut is the top rebounder with 96 in four games.

Broncos Sign Quarterback Nyquist

DENVER (AP) — Terry Nyquist, a 6-foot-2, 205-pound quarterback from Northern Michigan, was signed as a free agent Thursday by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Club officials said the 22-year-old Nyquist, who averaged 43.8 yards in punting at Northern Michigan, was signed as a kicking specialist.

Mexican Federation Seeks Olympic Funds

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Sports Federation's 1965 budget does not yet include any sums for the organization and preparation of the 1968 Olympic Games to be held here.

The federal district is expected to include preparations for the Games as part of its annual 1965 budget, but this has not yet been announced.

One immediate project, informed sources said today, was for the federal district to begin studying methods of raising funds to invest in the facilities needed for the Olympics.

Iowa State's Hot Shooting Chills Drake

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The temperature was below zero outside but it was as nothing compared to the chill that Iowa State put on Drake in a basketball game at Ames Thursday night.

The Cyclones of the Big Eight came up to the encounter with nothing but losses — five of them.

Their long time rivals from Des Moines, co-champions of the potent Missouri Valley Conference last season, boasted a 4-1 record.

Iowa State's prescription for the cold and the Bulldogs was a switching defense and a red hot 65 per cent shooting average in the first half. The remedy produced an 82-75 victory.

In a quieter battle between teams of the same two conferences, Cincinnati beat Kansas 76-72 at Cincinnati.

This was largely a case of 6-8 Ron Krick outshooting 6-11 Walt Wesley.

Krick had 22 points, and Wesley made 19 before he fouled out.

The Big Eight record against non conference opponents is 23-20.

Kansas State opens a three-game invasion of the West Coast tonight at Washington. Nebraska is at Texas and Oklahoma State is in the Vanderbilt Tournament at Nashville.

Two Bowl Games Set For Saturday Viewing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first major bowl game ever staged indoors and the passing arm of Jerry Rhome, chosen the outstanding back of the year in the Associated Press' poll, highlight Saturday's postseason college football action.

Defense-minded Utah & West Virginia meet in the Liberty Bowl which will be played in Atlantic City's Convention Hall. Rhome, who set 17 collegiate offensive records, leads Tulsa against Mississippi in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston.

Utah, co-champion of the Western Athletic Conference, had the sixth best defense against scoring in the country this season, permitting just 6.2 points per game. The Utes pick off 23 passes, seven by safety C. D. Lowery.

That aerial defense figures to get a stern test from West Virginia's Allen McCune, who piloted the Mountaineers to a 7-3 mark and the Southern Conference title, after they had split their first four games.

"McCune turned what might have been a mediocre season into a winning one for us," said Coach Gene Corum.

McCune, who took over in the fifth game, completed 60 of 99 passes for 10 touchdowns.

When it comes to passing though, it will be Johnny Vaught's Mississippi Rebels who figure to have their hands full Saturday. They will be up against the collegiate passing champion, Rhome of Tulsa, in the Bluebonnet classic.

Rhome, with Howard Twilley doing most of the catching, sparks one of the most pass-minded offenses in the country.

Mississippi allowed 10 opponents an average of 115 yards per game through the air and nine of the 14 touchdowns scored against the Rebels came on passes.

Rebel Coach Says He Knows How to Top Tulsa

HOUSTON (AP) — Mississippi Coach Johnny Vaught says he knows how to beat Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl football classic but he is not sure his Rebels will be able to do it.

"If you want to beat them, you've got to stop that passer," Vaught said.

That passer is Jerry Rhome, the Associated Press Back of the Year, who has smashed 17 NCAA pasing and total offense records.

Vaught's Mississippi team arrived Thursday about the time cold north air hit Houston, which indicated a good possibility of freezing weather during the young classic which will get under way at 3:30 p.m., EST, Saturday in Rice University's 70,000-seat stadium.

"A good pass-rush is the best way to stop Rhome," Vaught said. "We'll try to rush the boy, but we'll have other defenses. We'll also try to drop back and cover, it's just wait and see."

Mississippi has the big, quick linemen for the rush but Vaught noted that the Rebs have three brand new boys in the deep secondary, two who are sophomores.

Vaught said Rhome is "as good a passer as I've seen, and I've seen some good ones."

"He's a dandy with great field vision and a great sense on how to lead a receiver. All he needs is one step."

End Howard Twilley, who claims four NCAA receiving records, is on the receiving end of most of Rhome's passes, and Vaught said he had not solved this problem either.

"We'll have double coverage on him," Vaught said. "But they have two other backs who are good receivers and Rhome is good enough to see his openings," he said.

Tulsa Coach Glenn Dobbs, whose team has been in Houston since last Monday, said the Hurricane must try to get outside with the same amount of people Mississippi send out.

"If we can keep them bunched up we can do a good job," Dobbs said. "But, at Tulsa, we can out-slow people more than we can out run them."

Mississippi has been established an early 11-point favorite despite its 5-4-1, season record compared to Tula's 8-2 mark.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected for the sixth edition of the young classic which will be nationally televised, ABC.

YAL Redwings Icers Romp In 14-0 Win

The heavyweight Redwings whacked the Gladiators, 14-0, Thursday night in a Young America League Hockey game. In the lightweight tilt, the Monarchs squeezed out a 2-1 victory over the Pirates.

Tom Hendricks turned in a hat trick performance for the Redwings. A pair of goals were scored by Bill Pontius. Single tallies came off the sticks of Freddy Bird, Scott Beisner, Andy Bennett, Bob Nicholson, Rob Beadles, John Miller and Mike Trapp.

Monarch goals were scored by Ricky Whitworth and Virgil McPhearson. Ronnie Gill scored the lone Pirate goal.

Bills-Pats AFL Key Game Tops Pro Slate on Sunday

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Buffalo and Boston come down to the wire Sunday in a big game for all the marbles in the Eastern Division of the American Football League. Buffalo, with a half-game edge, can clinch a Dec. 26 title date with San Diego by a win or a tie. Boston must beat the Bills to become the division champion.

After a sensational nine-game winning spree that carried them up to their first meeting with Boston as the only unbeaten team in pro football, the Bills have lost two of their last four. Boston snapped the string with a 36-28 victory, and Oakland also upended the Bills two weeks ago.

Because Boston will be playing at home and also because Coach Mike Holovak has beaten Buffalo in six of seven games, including a tie playoff last year, the Patriots are slight favorites.

Boston has the blitzing defense that has bothered Jack Kemp, the Buffalo quarterback, but the Bills lead the league in both ground offense and total offense. Buffalo also is fight in rushing defense and total defense.

The big game figures to produce a struggle between Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo's league leading ground gainer, and the passing skill of Babe Parilli.

If it comes down to kicking, this could be an even match, too. Buffalo has the talented Pete Gogolak who kicks them soccer style while Boston has Gino Cappelletti, the league's top scorer who recently was voted the Most Valuable Players in the AFL.

Boston came from behind to win the first game with Buffalo Nov. 15, scoring 15 points in the last period. Parilli threw five touchdown passes and Cappelletti accounted for 24 points.

Daryle Lamonica, Buffalo's relief quarterback, was not successful in trying to protect a lead given him by Kemp. Coach Lou Saban went all the way with Lamonica last week and may do it again.

It boils down to a struggle between Buffalo's crushing big back offense with Gilchrist and Wray Carlton against Parilli's passing and Cappelletti's kicking.

With the NFL season over, we go into the last week with a 90-51-9 record, 38-34-6 for the NFL and 32-17-3 so far in the AFL. There is nothing at stake in the other three AFL games Sunday, but let's give it a try:

AFL

Boston 20, Buffalo 17 — Cappelletti's field goals decisive in bitter struggle between fierce rivals. Absence of Booker Edgerson leaves gap in Bills' corner defense. Much depends on the weather and the ability of Pats to close down on Gilchrist again.

Kansas City 35, New York 14 — Jets keep record intact of not winning a road game all season. Kansas City put on best show of year in romp over San Diego last week. Jets are experimenting at quarterback for next year and are hurting badly on pass defense.

Oakland 21, San Diego 14 — Raiders want to get even for early 31-17 beating, hoping to salvage something from poor season. Chargers may be too busy looking ahead to next week's game with Buffalo-Boston winner to pay much attention to Al Davis' gang.

Houston 21, Denver 7 — Oilers close it out with another victory win after breaking nine-game losing streak last week.

Track Bets Exceed $4 Billion

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time, more than $4 billion was bet on legalized horse races in the United States in 1964, the annual yearend survey by The Associated Press showed today.

The record combined total for the thoroughbreds and the trotters was $4,318,747,489, up from the 1963 total of 3,889,593,603. The total was wagered by a record attendance of 60,718,540, an increase of more than five million from the 5,367,982 a year ago.

If an additional $378,983,900 that was bet on legalized dog racing is counted, the ground total in the United States would be $4,697,736,389. Indicative of the upward trend is the record $161,515,313 bet in Canada on the thoroughbreds.

The breakdown of the over-all total shows $3,057,898,763 was wagered on the thoroughbreds by 39,186,519. Harness racing bets aggregated $1,260,848,726 by $21,532,021. The various state treasuries benefited roughly by $300,000,000 from the runners and nearly $100,000,000 from harness racing.

New York state and in particular, Aqueduct and Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways, continued No. 1 on the betting list. A total of 1,411,333,519 was wagered in the Empire State, $731,766,851 on the runners and $679,566,668 on the pacers and trotters. An extended season and a big play on the twin double at Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceway contributed to the record total.

The breakdown by states for the thoroughbreds:

DODGERS' BIG FOUR IN FOLD—The two star outfielders and pitchers of the Los Angeles Dodgers joined in a five-way handshake with general manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi Thursday after signing contracts for the 1965 season. The players, left to right, are outfielders Tommy Davis and Willie Davis, and pitchers Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax. Drysdale and Koufax will get about what they did last year, $70,000. Tommy Davis is taking a cut from $42,500, and Willie Davis is being raised to $30,000. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Koufax, Drysdale Ink Sizeable L.A. Pacts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale have signed contracts for 1965 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, each to receive salaries in the $70,000 bracket.

And outfielders Willie and Tommy Davis, both at good but more modest stipends, also have signed for the coming baseball season.

Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, with all four players present, made the announcement at a news conference at Dodger Stadium Thursday.

Bavasi divulged no specific figures, but intimated the two pitchers will receive about the same as last year.

Willie Davis, off his .294 batting average compared to .245 the year before, got a boost, reportedly from $20,000 to around $30,000.

Tommy Davis, no relation to Willie, the 1963 major league batting champion who slipped from .326 to .275, was trimmed from a reported $42,500 to $35,000.

Bavasi indirectly confirmed the hike and cut when he said Willie 'got the best raise on the ball club," and if Tommy regains his previous form his contract will be voided, "and he'll get his money back."

Koufax, who had a 19-5 record and for the third straight season turned in a no-hit game, missed the latter part of the season because of an elbow injury.

Koufax said he hasn't tested his famed left arm but added, "It feels fine and I think I'll be all right when we get to spring training camp.

'I think it would have been all right last season if I hadn't tried to come back too soon," the handsome young bachelor said.

Strong Arkansas Defense Bids for Sixth Bowl Blank

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Nebraska can accomplish quite a feat against Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1 and the Cornhuskers don't have to win to do it. All they have to do is score.

That is more than the last five Arkansas foes could do.

The second - ranked Razorbacks shut out Wichita, Texas A&M, Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech, and hope to stretch the string to six in Dallas New Year's Day.

Arkansas allowed it's first five opponents — Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas — a total of 57 points for a season's average of 5.7 per game — best in the nation among major college football teams.

Four members of Arkansas' defensive team made the All-Southwest Conference team — linebacker Ronnie Caveness, also All - America team, safety Ken Hatfield, the nations' leading punt returner who made the second unit of the All-America squad, and tackles Jim Williams and Loyd Philips, a pair of non-seniors who received honorable mention on the All-America team.

These four and the rest of Arkansas' defenders allowed an average of 97 rushing yards and 83.5 passing yards per game, or 180.5 yards total offense per opponent.

They returned 32 punts 534 yards while allowing opponents only 146 yards on 25 punt returns.

The Razorback defenders also intercepted 15 passes and recovered 13 enemy fumbles, compared to eight passes Arkansas had intercepted and six fumbles Arkansas lost. Three of those intercepted two passes and took returned for touchdowns.

Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas was worried in August that his defense might not be up to the task of a winning season. It was heavy with sophomores who came through — like cornerbacker Harry Jones, who both back for touchdowns; and like tackle Phillips, who was named the outstanding sophomore lineman in SWC.

In yardage given up, the 1964 Arkansas defense ranks third best in conference history.

"Getting a string of shutouts can be helpful in a way," Broyles says. "Of course, it makes your opponent want to score more. But it also makes our defense work harder to keep the other team from scoring."

Bruins, Redwings Score Three Goals in One Minute

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The way that red light kept going on in Detroit's Olympia Stadium, the fans who had come to see a National Hockey League game between the Red Wings and the Boston Bruins might have thought the goal judges were trigger happy.

But those three goals inside of 59 seconds of the second period were all legitimate and the two scored by the Bruins helped Boston to a 5-3 victory. In Wednesday night's other NHL game, Montreal rallied with two third period goals and tied Toronto 2-2.

The Wings and Bruins each scored twice in the opening period and then. Boston's Reg Fleming started the three goal spurt at 1:49 of the second session.

Alex Delvecchio led a Detroit rush up ice and scored the tying goal just 22 seconds after Fleming hit. Then Doug Barkley was penalized for hooking at 2:40 and Boston's Murray Oliver tipped in a blueline shot for the go-ahead goal at 2:48.

Goalie Ed Johnston made the lead stand up the rest of the way and got an insurance goal from Ab McDonald as the Bruins snapped a four-game losing streak and won their first game in Detroit in the last 14 visits.

The Maple Leafs took a 2-0 lead on a late second period goal by Frank Mahovlich and another in the first minute of the third period by Carl Brewer but Montreal rallied to tie.

John Ferguson got the Canadiens' first goal at 5:30 and then Jacques Laperriere tied it three minutes later.

The tie extended the Canadiens' first place lead to two points over the runner-up Red Wings but it was a costly one for Montreal.

Syracuse Gridders Plan for Bowl Game

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Syracuse football team spent a long afternoon in front of the blackboard Thursday going over plans for its Sugar Bowl game against Louisiana State on New Year's Day.

The team will fly to Pensacola, Fla., on Sunday and begin drills the next day.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder said the team would not go to New Orleans, site of the game, until Dec. 30 and would hold only one practice there.

Argentine Heavyweight Heads Garden Card

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Bonavena, an undefeated, long-haired Argentine heavyweight, heads a Madison Square Garden card that also includes Ray Patterson tonight.

Bonavena, who started his professional career last January and is unbeaten in seven bouts, is a 2-1 favorite over Billy Stephen of Hollywood in a 10-rounder.

In a co-featured 10-rounder, James J. Woody of the Bronx and Tony Doyle of Salt Lake City will put their unbeaten records on the line. Ray Patterson, younger brother of the former heavyweight champion, meets John Davey of Los Angeles in an eight-rounder.

Bonavena, who wears his hair Beatle-style, says he can't speak English but has no trouble with the language when singing rock-and-roll tunes. He has scored knockouts in six of his seven bouts, so no one makes too much fun of his hair style.

His manager, Dr. Marvin Goldberg, said he will seek a bout with a ranked heavy if Bonavena gets by Stephen, the most experienced fighter the Argentine has faced. Stephen, 28, has a 17-7-1 record, including 12 knockouts. He knocked out Ski Goldstein in seven rounds Nov. 13, his only start this year.

Woody, undefeated in six starts, scored a major upset in his last outing when he knocked down James J. Beattie, 6-foot-10 giant from St. Paul, and scored a decision. Doyle is undefeated in seven bouts, including five knockouts.

Patterson, whose brother Floyd is expected to be at ringside, has lost only once in 10 starts. Davey, from Los Angeles, has a 5-3-3 record and is unbeaten in his last four.

Dick Smith, who began the 1964 baseball season with the Mets, hit .307 in 76 games for Buffalo.

DU Skaters Face Toronto

DENVER (UPI)— Denver University's hockey team faces its strongest test of the season tonight as it hosts the University of Toronto in the first of a two-game encounter.

Toronto, defending Senior Intercollegiate Hockey League champion, has won its last 11 starts and has eight lettermen returning from last year's squad which compiled a 17-32 record.

The two teams will clash again Saturday night.

Frontier Adds Special Flights During Holidays

Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Santa Fe will receive additional flights from Frontier Airlines to accommodate Christmas and New Years' holiday traffic. This was announced today by William J. Mitchell, vice president of sales and service.

On Dec. 18, 22, 23 and 24 and again on Jan. 3 Frontier will operate three additional round trip flights between Denver and Albuquerque via the intermediat cities of Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Santa Fe.

Frontier plans to schedule 46 extra round trip flights throughout its 11-state system in the Midwest, Rocky Mountain West and Southwest. Vacationing college students, servicemen and other holiday travelers will benefit from the additional flights.

Strike Hedging Dominates Steel Market

Strike - fearful steel users are finding hard going in attempting to hedge against a possible steel strike next May, Iron Age reports.

Most steel consumers are now determined to build up their inventories as a cushion against a strike, the national metalworking weekly says. But steel consumption is running at such a high rate that a major buildup in advance of the earliest possible strike deadline is nearly impossible.

The United Steelworkers of America is expected to serve formal bargaining notice Jan. 1. Under terms of the contract, a strike could be called May 1.

Meanwhile, the union and the industry begin official talks in Pittsburgh this week. Iron Age says the industry is entering its most crucial labor negotiations in years.

Not only will the union make strong demands, but a split in leadership makes negotiations even more touchy. Union president David McDonald is being challenged by secretary - treasurer I. W. Abel and a slate of officers for the top union jobs.

In a special inventory analysis, Iron Age says that steel stocks have gained only 800,000 tons since October. At the projected rate of production and consumption, only another 1.5 million tons is likely to be accumulated in the first quarter of 1965.

This means that steel inventories would hit about 69 days of supply with only a month to go before the earliest possible strike date. For many users, this is only adequate for normal production. It lags far behind the supply many have set for their goal, Iron Age says.

By comparison, in the big pre-strike buildup in 1959, steel users added 11 million tons of steel to their stocks between January 1 and June 30. The difference is in steel chew-up, now approaching the steel industry's ability to deliver.

Iron Age says that one result of the steel scramble will be a big increase in steel imports. Steel users will resort to every source of steel and imports have traditionaly soared in inventory building periods.

As is customary, big steel users have outlined their plans to their suppliers. Auto steel orders for February, for example, point to a 30 per cent stockpiling m c v e. The same goes for appliance builders.

Auto suppliers, as is also customary, have received the word from their customers to be equally protected. Because of the tremendous daily consumption of steel by the automakers, a 60-day inventory is considered the maximum that could be handled.

Steel sales executives point out that the tonnages demanded by the major users have destroyed their flexibility to deal with a wide range of miscellaneous buyers. Steel users without established sources will find it virtually impossible to pick up extra steel tonnage until the steel labor negotiations are completed.

After losing its football opener to Columbia, 21-14, Colgate held eight rivals to 31 points. The Red Raiders won 7 of their last 8.

Pete Field has New Telephone Dial Exchange

Dec. 6 the Telephone Company in Colorado Springs cut into service a mobile telephone dial exchange at Peterson Field. This is the first of its kind in Colorado.

The purpose of the mobile dial exchange is to rush facilities into a fast growing area in order to take care of service requests prior to the time that a permanent office could be built and put into service.

This office will take care of from 700 to 800 customers. A new dial office is currently being planned, and will be into operation at the corner of Babcock and Galley Roads sometime in 1966. The land has been purchased and the acrhitectural work is in the process of being completed.

Because of the tremendous growth in Colorado Springs four major cable jobs are being rushed to take care of the east edge of the city. Major feeder cable jobs have been engineered and cable ordered to take care of the north, south and west areas. All of these major additions will occur during 1965.

Glen Anderson said telephone Co. executive, said the company expects to gain between 2600 and 2700 new customers in Colorado Springs alone, during 1964. A similar growth prediction has been made for 1965.

With the cutting in of the new mobile ofice, many subscribers on the outer eastern edge of Colorado Springs were given a voluntary rate reduction as the base rate area of the Colorado Springs exchange was expanded to include the area as far out as Peterson Field.

$41,000 Bonus Announced by Shepard's Co.

W. G. Packard, chairman of the board of directors of Shepard's Citations, Inc. has announced the distribution of over $41,000.00 to the employees of the company as a Christmas bonus.

Packard said: "The board of directors and the officers of the company are particularly pleased to be able to recognize the efforts of each member of the Shepard family at this time. The fine work and enthusiastic cooperation of the entire organization has made it possible for Shepard's to continue to provide the legal profession throughout the entire nation with an indispensable research tool."

The bonus distribution was the second special event of the season, which began with the gift of fourteen pound turkeys to all employees just prior to the long four-day Thanksgiving holiday.

On Saturday, the company will assist Santa in his annual party for the children of employees. The party will feature the distribution of gifts to the children and will include a movie and refreshments.

The special holiday program will come to a close when work operations stop at noon on Christmas Eve. At that time the entire group of employees will gather for a short period of carol singing prior to leaving for the weekend.

Mutual Funds Buys Heavily in Air Transports

Mutual funds have $311,328,000 invested in air transportation securities, according to an Investment Company Institute study.

A survey based on the latest available financial reports of member companies shows that 70 mutual funds have common stock holdings in 15 air transportation companies worth $294,114,000. The preferred stocks of three air transport firms valued at $3,444,000 are held by six funds and the bonds of eight air transport companies valued at $13,770,000 are held by 15 funds.

American Airlines common was the most widely-held air transportation security with 29 mutual funds holding $61,455,000 of this issue, while Pan-American World Airways, with 28 funds holding $62,113,000, and United Air Lines with 28 funds holding $45,104,000, were scored in rank.

Northwest Airlines followed with 17 funds holding $41,464,000, Delta Air Lines with 15 funds holding $31,857,000, and Western Air Lines with 12 funds holding $29,298,000.

Other large common stock holdings include: Trans World Airlines, $7,557,000, held by five funds; Emery Air Freight Corporation, $5,086,000, five funds, and Eastern Air Lines, $4,862,000, four funds.

The most widely-held air transport security in the preferred group was United Air Lines with $3,085,000 held by four mutual funds. This was followed by American Airlines with $295,000 and Flying Tiger Line with $64,000 — both held by one mutual fund.

The bonds of air transport companies, and the number of funds holding them, follow:

Trans World Airlines, held by six mutual funds, valued at $3,980,000; Eastern Air Lines, two funds, $3,859,000; Pan-American Airways, three funds $3,133,000; Flying Tiger Line, five funds, $1,663,000; United Air Lines, two funds, $395,000; K. L. M. Royal Dutch Airlines, two funds, $355,000; Ozark Air Lines, one fund, $312,000; Allegheny Airlines, one fund, $73,000.

Your Freedom Newspaper

Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Search for Immortality

Most of us have an inborn antagonism to destruction. Even the word conveys some emotional overtones. And yet we have pointed out that man, by his nature, destroys. He cannot help destroying if he is to survive.

Of course, if we are to be completely scientific we must acknowledge that man does not destroy anything, really. He converts. Even when a given raw material (coal, oil, wood) is consumed by combustion, the process is one of conversion and not one of destruction in a scientific sense.

But, if we carry out this rationale scientifically, then destruction from the standpoint of our acquaintance with reality in this world is meaningless. Nothing is ever really destroyed, by nature or by man. So, if the word is to stand, it must be viewed within a short-term frame of reference.

A forest is removed to provide lumber. From the standpoint of those who love the forest, destruction has occurred. From the standpoint of the producers and the buyers of lumber, production and conversion occurred.

But the term, destruction, conveys almost an automatic negativity. We wonder, however, if our automatic reaction to the word and the concept doesn't arise from what we might term "wanton" destruction. Such meaningless procedures as are conveyed by "wanton" really signalize our emotional reaction to destruction.

Actually, destruction, in the only way it can ever occur on this earth, if we exclude wanton destruction, is a constructive act. We destroy many things every day. We write something. It does not suit and we toss it into a "waste" basket. Everything in the basket is scheduled for "destruction." Surely, this is not evil.

There is an old building. It is out of repair, conforming to earlier standards and no longer of use. It is constructive to knock it down that a newer and better building can be erected.

Think of earlier ages. At one time, giant lizards roamed these plains. They have been destroyed in nature's onward march. What a benevolent act that was, nature's rampage against these monstrous creatures. Suppose they had not been destroyed and we still had to protect ourselves from the tyrannosaurus rex. Of course, the point of view of the lizards is not considered. From our point of view, destruction of a monster is a good thing.

There is an automatic tendency, probably implicit in man because he seeks assurances in a world that is ordered to his liking, to believe that destruction is invariably evil. But if we are truly objective in our view we will see destruction, not as an evil thing, but as a part of the great concept of construction.

Man, although he may destroy, is fundamentally a builder. And, if his destruction is not wanton, it is a destruction that relates to his ability to construct, to erect ever better and more useful tools and commodities.

Man has long been aware of the fact that his world tends to come apart at the seams. Tools wear out and rust over. Fishing nets have to be mended. The cost of maintenance is huge. And people tend to wear out, too. They sicken and die.

It is a transitory world at best, and nature combines with man to cause wood to rot and buildings to deteriorate and food to spoil.

Thus, man is engaged in a constant effort to immortalize himself and his efforts. And the very concept of destruction seems linked in his mind to the erosions of time and the temporary nature of all things.

But there is one area, and one only, wherein destruction and the erosion of time is held at bay. That is in the realm of ideas, of concepts, of principles. Here, man may come in touch with eternity. And here, if his understanding is sufficient, he can glimpse and even grasp the essence of immortality.

It is futile to imagine that time can be halted. But it is not futile to grasp the fact that there are principles that can bridge all the ages of man. If man can discover enough of principles, then he will build a human society upon a rock of truth. Even though the rock will one day crumble, the truth will remain.

What we know and understand is the first verity. Knowledge of truth is not only power, but the power of right.

Philosophy for Frightened Men

By BUTLER D. SHAFFER

Many of my conservative friends have the mistaken notion that the socialists want to destroy businessmen. Nothing could be further from the truth, as an understanding of the socialist temperament will reveal.

The socialist philosophy is founded not upon what many persons consider a strength, i.e., a humanitarian desire to help those "less fortunate" than most, but rather upon a weakness, i.e., the feeling of personal inadequacy to deal with the reality of sustaining one's life by productive effort. Socialism is but a haven for the incompetent, the lazy, and the otherwise non-productive; a refuge which gives solace to the economic failures and damns the successful. It is a philosophy for frightened men with not unwarranted feelings of inferiority in dealing with the market place.

The socialist, then, is quite resentful of a free society, for therein he must be able to sustain himself by his productive abilities. In the words of Ludwig von Mises: "In such a society each member whose ambitions have not been fully satisfield resents the fortune of all those who succeeded better. . . Their fanaticism in defending their critique of capitalism is precisely due to the fact that they are fighting their own awareness of its falsity. . .The gulf between what a man is and achieves and what he thinks of his own abilities and achievements is pitilessly revealed. Daydreams of a 'fair' world which would treat him according to his 'real worth' are the refuge of all those plagued by a lack of self-knowledge."

Thus, in seeking out the "down-trodden" and championing their cause, the socialist is motivated not so much by feelings of humanitarianism, as he is in seeking to establish a camaraderie of failures. In his tendency to seek employment with some government bureau, he exhibits not a desire to perform "public services" but a fear of the market place, a fear that is assuaged by the promise that the government will never insist upon a showing of competency.

While the socialist resents those who have been successful in the market, he realizes all too well that his existence is dependent upon the men and women whom he so despises. While he would like to destroy them, he knows that he dare not, for then he would have nothing to fall back on for his survival but himself. Like any parasite, the socialist knows that he can live only so long as his victim lives, and therefore he must not destroy the producer, but rather control him.

The socialist knows, however, that too much control over the producer will cause his victim to cease being productive. If the tax structure is too high, or the degree of control is too stringent, the net profit to the producer will be lowered to the point where he will no longer care to put forth the productive effort. To the socialist, then, the problem becomes one of seeking the optimum level of control so as to maximize what he can plunder from the producer. We might rephrase the situation in the form of a law: the socialist will exercise as much control over the producer as does not result in a decline of net return to the socialist. The socialist, in other words, will seek to maximize his take from the producers.

A lesson ought to be gleaned from such an analysis by the producers of this world. Heretofore, most have gone on the assumption that 1) to deny the socialist what he wants might cause him to destroy the producers, and 2) if the socialist is given what he asks for, he will go away and stop bothering the producers. In fact, however, we have seen that the last thing the socialist wants to destroy are the men and women upon whom his livelihood depends, and also that as long as the producers consent to the additional controls, they can be assured of even further controls.

Realizing this, then, it would appear that the wise course for the producers to follow is to insist that they will not produce as long as any controls are exercised over them. Putting the proposition in economic terminology, it simply consists in raising the price the socialist must pay in order to have his controls, and if the price becomes the destruction of his victim, he can have no alternative but retreat.

To The Point

British Pound in Peril

By RUSSELL KIRK

The labor government of Britain necessarily is becoming the least socialistic of Socialist administrations. No sooner had he assumed the post of prime minister, than Mr. Harold Wilson discovered that he cannot deviate markedly from Tory policies.

Although Mr. Wilson says he will proceed with a gradual and partial nationalization of the steel industry, already he has been compelled to give up the sceme of meddling with the oil industry. We will hear a little more about nationalizing land. In foreign policy, no break with Conservative measures is yet discernible.

What gave the Labor cabinet a rude shock was the perilous situation of the pound sterling less than a month after he had won the general election. The pound was saved from devaluation only by the help of foreign governments and foreign bankers. Labor's grandiose talk of vast new "welfare" expenditures, and its dubious budget, promptly undermined confidence in sterling's stability. For socialism, like every other form of political organization, must pay its way; and if government expenditure produces inflation of currency, no one will trust that government's bonds and money.

Devaluation of the pound would inflict great injury, in the long run, upon British capital; and it would be a confession that the Labor government cannot manage the economy effectively. With Mr. Wilson's tiny majority in Parliament, devaluation might bring a new general election — and a Labor defeat — within months.

So the Wilson cabinet is likely to refrain from measures and language which would alarm investors and the great middle British society. Mr. Wilson already is finding it necessary to repress the doctrinaire "left" within his own party. Despite the support he has enjoyed from that left, his government will not be more radical than the sort of socialism represented by the late Hugh Gaitskell.

Yet despite Mr. Wilson's involuntary moderation, probably the pound will have to be devalued, before many months are out. Inflation of wages and prices has been proceeding for years, and Wilson inherits the economic difficulties which the Macmillan and Home governments tried to check. This commentator writes from London, where the cost of food and lodging and nearly everything has risen drastically over the past five years. Clearly, the pound is not really worth the $2.78 which is its nominal exchange-value; compared with the Swiss franc, the French franc, and the German mark, sterling is a "soft" currency. To compete in the foreign trade which is Britain's life-blood, eventually — and probably soon — the pound will have to sink to a realistic ratio — $2.50 in dollar exchange, or even lower.

In the days of the Attlee government, doctrinaire Socialists proclaimed that their government could follow whatever fiscal policies it might fancy, and that the United States would be compelled to underwrite the British economy, willy-nilly. They soon were taught their error. The United States and other governments will not repeat the subsidizing of sterling which they volunteered a few weeks ago. And it is most improbable that any abrupt Labor program of governmental economy and emphasis upon "hard work" will be developed to decrease costs and prices, and so prevent devaluation.

Thus socialism, after all, is governed by certain iron laws of economics. A socialist government cannot lift itself by its own bootstraps, nor interfere radically with the modern industrial system. Wilson finds himself confronting the dilemma which overwhelmed Attlee and Bevan in the post-war years.

Paradox and Drama At World's Fair

Out of the million tales that can be told of the Big Town, comes one that is paradoxical, dramatic and what one author termed, "The Miracle at Flushing Meadows."

The miracle has to do with the astonishingly successful method of concising and explaining basic principles of economics at the Hall of Free Enterprise exhibit at the World's Fair.

Paradox and drama exist in the tale because, amazingly, big business which owes its continued existence and prosperity to the practice of these economic tenets, is failing to financially support the endeavor, bringing it to the brink of financial failure.

In this respect the exhibit is like a parent to the giant industrial exhibits surrounding it — a parent whose children refuse to support the very principles upon which they were raised to maturity and prosperity.

The atmosphere of the hall is in direct contrast to its gaudy exhibit companions nearby. The stateliness of the 10 Doric columns guarding its front entrance, representing 10 pillars of economic wisdom, seems synonymous with the majestic Manhattan spires in whose shadow it rests.

Inside the hall, Mr. Both, an animated wire sculpture, so named because he represents both customers and workers, demonstrates economic workings, using as an illustration, events consequent to the failure of a shoe factory in a small community.

Mr. Both, typifying conflicting personalities existent in everyone — the worker who wants more pay and the customer who wants to buy for less — lays bare the economic facts of the problem. He proves that prosperity for all can be gained through the application of human energy to natural resources with the aid of tools.

Supplementing the shoe factory story are other exhibits including a 12-foot fiber glass tree complete with figures, drawings and diagrams, illustrating from its roots in the soil to the fruit in its branches that man's material welfare depends upon energy he expends on natural resources aided by tools he invents. Another part of the exhibit is a question and answer board and still another is a display of an ant colony. The latter clearly depicts that the ant species, though it has been around for 40 million years, has never advanced because it could not invent tools.

The overwhelming success of the hall's exhibits is shown by the fact that the pavilion had more visitors per square foot than any other fair display and also by the many congratulatory messages that have poured from the pens of delighted teachers and students.

The general theme of these messages is the expression of satisfaction at being able, under the hall's guidance, to grasp in a few moments an understanding of economic principles previously requiring years of study.

These economic principles explained at the hall coupled with an existent climate of freedom, have made possible the great growth of our industrual prosperity.

Why, then, is big business not supporting the Hall of Free Enterprise?

Can it be that the predisposition of key men in business to regard contributions to education as charity, is one reason for this country's increasing moral and economic degradation?

This miracle at Flushing Meadows, a first-time-in-history, unique and highly successful educational project, must not fail for lack of funds.

Big business, its beneficiaries, can, through donations to the hall, aid in strengthening the foundations of free, profit-producing private enterprise — the base of our economic welfare.

Officials of the American Economic Foundation, the group sponsoring the program, report that half of the original budget, $2,100,000 has been subscribed, but at the present time the organization owes $300,000 in back bills for exhibits, rent and services.

With 25 years' semantic research behind the hall with leaders from 48 nations eager to cooperate — with 93 separate organizations assisting in disseminating the tested and proved economic truths dramatized in the pavilion — it seems ironic that financial aid is not immediately forthcoming.

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent at the fair this year to show WHAT AMERICA MAKES. The hall is asking only a tiny percentage of this amount to show WHAT MAKES AMERICA, and to reveal the power behind the glory of America — freedom under God.

Checks can be made out to the American Economic Foundation, earmarked for the Hall of Free Enterprise, and mailed direct to the foundation at 51 East 42nd St., New York, New York 10017.

Q—Did all the Mayflower Pilgrims go ashore on the same day?

A—No. The women did not go ashore until Nov. 24, 1620, thirteen days after the men.

A Strange Modern Habit

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

There is a strong possibility that people who have acquired one strange, modern habit, picked up the habit from politicians and other bureaucratic parasites who are, perforce, addicted to grayism. Until about 1953, however, I don't remember encountering so many people who continually qualified their own beliefs, like this, "Enjoyed your column and think It's great but I'm not sure if I agree with you semantically (or completely)."

Of course, I've never hoped for agreement in connection with anything I've written. My purpose in writing these columns is to express my own opinions. Those who qualify their opinion of something I have written are not expressing an opinion of their own; they only seem to be plagued by an overwhelming fear of agreement with any positive point of view, as if agreement indicated a weakness of some kind. With this thought indelibly impressed on my consciousness, I have examined my own behavior for many months and find that I do not qualify anything I have to say in this particular manner, if any.

Now, let us imagine I have made this statement: These rights I possess by virtue of my existence. If another person disagrees with those words, semantically, it means they prefer other words which mean the same thing. If they hold some other reservation about the statement, there is nothing to prevent them from making a statement of their own.

There are also those who say, "I'm not sure if I agree with you, completely, but . . ." Until they are sure, it seems to me no comment is required, and this brings me to the main point of this column.

Millions of Americans find it easy to have complete confidence in their government, despite the old, old records of governments. Since they display an overwhelming lack of confidence in themselves, I wonder how they can have so much faith in their confidence in government. I am certainly not the first person to feel that anybody who trusts government is foolish. Every candidate who runs for public office says the same thing during a campaign.

Just the other day I received the same old suggestion in a letter. If you can't even trust your government, who can you trust? I replied that it isn't my government and that under no circumstance could I have trust in any person or any agency of government dedicated to running my life, ruling over me. I almost bet I would receive a reply and I did. "I agree with you on principle but as a practical person, I feel that I must have faith in government." I gave up.

Every so often I feel that Dawn and I are indeed strange people. Every day or so we make decisions which are based upon our lack of confidence in government and if we spent very much time trying to agree or disagree semantically, on principle or just to avoid making a decision, we would live in a haze of pure frustration and I guess a good many people do wander around frustrated and in a daze.

Speaking of decisions, we expect to be moving in at the Cross Bar Ranch at Eagle, Colorado, on January 9. Sure, the car may break down, a terrific snow storm may be in progress, any one of several dozen things can louse us up but we arrived at a decision, regardless. That's the way things go. Every so often you must make a decision, whether you like it or not and whether or not anybody else likes it. You just can't get away from the fact that every human being is responsible for his or her decisions.

Believe it or not, the business of writing columns requires the making of decisions — decisions which affect every line written. If I had nothing to say, I would not be writing these columns. I understand the principles in which I believe and do the best I can to govern my life accordingly. Only rarely do I wonder if anybody will agree with me but when I do wonder, inadvertently, it's only for a few seconds, until I hear a few dozen murmurs which always sound the same, "Yes, but . . ."

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Nation's Press

On Rising Consumer Prices

From Santa Ana (Calif.) Register

While state and federal agencies claim to be interested in "protecting the interests of the poor consumer," frequently actions by the bureaucrats give cause to question whether the interest is real.

Californians are familiar with the fact that the state sets minimum milk prices, even though occasionally some businessmen object that the price set is too high. Most outspoken through the years have been Ralphs and Safeway, contending they could sell for less and still make a profit. Their pleas have fallen on deaf bureaucratic ears.

Actually, where states haven't acted the federal Department of Agriculture has stepped in through milk marketing orders, which also set floors under the prices which must be paid by consumers.

Across the country in the little town of Front Royal, Va., the I.G.A. Foodliner store has raised its milk price 5 cents a half gallon.

The local milk commission had fixed the minimum price, but Robert H. Trumbo, owner of the IGA Foodliner refused to raise his price. So he was hauled into court and fined $250 and was enjoined from selling milk at a price below what the bureaucrats decided was the minimum.

Those in government who complain about high food prices and worry about the poor consumer seem oblivious to the part their own actions play in creating the problems. Governmental actions fix prices high on such products as sugar, coffee, wheat and a number of other commodities. Producers and processors are taxed heavily, and such taxes must be added to the price of the products. Unions are encouraged to demand higher wages and more restrictive work rules, to add to the costs.

When food prices go up, there's a chance the weather may have caused it. But it's more likely that some governmental agent had a hand in it.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 628: "The Supreme Court's ruling that bans Bible reading and prayer in schools does not seem pleasing to many people. List all possible methods to nullify the court's decision."

Answer: The Gazette Telegraph does not think it has all the answers.

In the first place, it is our understanding that the court has prohibited state-decreed prayers and compulsory Bible reading in tax-financed schools.

Several suggestions of nullification of the court's decisions have been made, including a constitutional amendment. This, in our estimation, would weaken the Bill of Rights and could lead away from the traditional separation of church and state. The court action could be nullified if the Justice Department (a portion of the executive branch) were to refuse to enforce the court ruling.

At one time, states used the doctrine of interposition in which they rejected the federal authority over the states on constitutional grounds. This was ended by the Civil War, which ended sovereignty of individual states to all intents and purposes. Even if it were tried now, the states and communities have become so dependent on federal taxpayers' money that they would be unwilling to give up the "free" federal money they would lose if they opposed the federal government. The sending of troops to Little Rock by Eisenhower, and to Oxford by Kennedy are further proof that the federal government will brook no state refusal to obey federal court orders.

Those who believe Bible reading and prayer are a part of education of the youth of the land are advised that the proper solution is to send their children to church-sponsored schools, or other non-tax-financed schools. They should no more expect to compel others' children to listen to doctrinal material which the others oppose than they want their children to be exposed to anti-religious philosophy.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well being of all mankind on this earth.

POINT OF VIEW

To the Editor:

There has been much-ado about the Antlers Hotel, many symbolic tears shed over its demise — and why not? It has many fond memories for many people and they have the right to regret its passing just as many had the right to regret the passing of the horse and carriage. Just as we now have something better to take the place of the old, limited transportation, so will we have something much better to take the place of the old hotel.

Two things that hit me smack between the eyes upon arrival in this fair city fifteen years ago were the traffic hazard in the middle of the intersection of Nevada and Platte (when a pretty little park to the southwest of it would have provided a much more attractive setting) and the Antlers Hotel blocking what should have been an unobstructed view of Pikes Peak. It seemed to say, "Look at ME, I'm MUCH more important, MUCH more beautiful!"

The present developers are correcting this mistake and the two buildings will frame the Peak. (How long before the other mistake will be corrected?) However, WHY do we need skyscrapers to add to the traffic congestion when we have the magnificent peaks of Rampart Range to look up to? (I realize that it cuts utilities distribution costs — but what about the added costs for parking facilities and time-losses through traffic congestion?)

Tourists enjoy coming to Colorado to get a change of scenery — to get AWAY from their home cities. Perhaps that is why Rocky Mountain, Grand Teton, and Yellowstone National Parks become more and more crowded each year because more and more stay longer because they are NOT INTERESTED in spending time in or around cities that are beginning to look just like their home cities. To them a vacation trip is for a change of scenery, NOT merely to burn up gasoline!

If developers and meddling planners would like a suggestion, may I put it in question form? Why not develop the corners in residential areas with apartments of not over two stories which will eliminate the double-street higher taxes or corner residences and with the higher taxes these apartments can yield, the inside residential properties could be taxed proportionately less? Such apartments are no more objectionable than building single residences so close together that neighbors can reach into each other's dining rooms and take the food off the table!

RESOURCES

To the Editor:

One of the speakers at a sales club I belong to pointed out that experts in natural resources believe it is possible that the undeveloped nations have as many or more natural resources than the United States. If true, the difference of the great wealth and productive power of America would have to be in the relative individual freedom. Since all wealth is created by the formula of natural resources plus human energy times tools, and wealth is measured in terms of useful products for human consumption, it would seem that all aid short of individual freedom of the citizens of the backward nations would be nothing more than charity.

Government always reflects the thinking and will of the sum of the total citizenry, and the material wealth it possesses is taken from the total production of the people.

In all of recorded history neither military power, no matter how great, nor government to government aid to other nations, has ever been able to maintain or insure peace, and yet peace was apparently one of the major factors in the recent election. Continued prosperity was also a major factor. If all the speeches and activities of the election have caused the American people to stop the placing of burdens and controls on individual human energy and start eliminating the handicaps, maybe we can have a semblance of peace and continue to produce the necessary goods and services, hoping and praying for better times.

Eggs Dropped Out of Window Without Break

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Students at the Philadelphia College of Art had an unusual assignment:

Drop four uncooked eggs out of a third story window without breaking them. And to do it with an artistic flair.

Robert Burridge, a junior, spent nine days on his eggs-in-the-basket project. He put his eggs in a cardboard space ship, decorated it with an American eagle, a cupid playing a lyre, and the outline of a bare foot. In the tail he concealed a green smoke bomb.

Then he threw it out a third floor window at the college.

Burridge got a flunking grade.

Robert Bartlett dropped his egg vehicle out the window. The four-foot long plastic tube filled with water and with protruding fins hit the ground, smashed and showered water over student spectators.

The eggs remained whole.

But before Richard Reinhardt, industrial design teacher and creator of the egg drop idea, would give credit for 100 per cent survival, he asked: "Are these eggs hard-boiled?"

Barlett cracked one open to prove they weren't.

Class members used rubber bands, fish poles, parachutes, kite-like structures, yards of thread and reams of tissue paper to build their egg carriers.

The results: of 84 eggs dropped, 36 broke; 6 students lost all the eggs in their baskets, 9 lost none.

AMBUSH BY BUFFALOES?

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — African buffaloes don't like trains.

Train crews freighting iron ore down through the Krugrer National game reserve from a mine at Phalaborwa are worried by buffalo herds blocking the line. Rounding a bend in the game reserve in the early hours of a dark morning recently an ore-laden train ran into a herd of about 400 buffalo. Two buffaloes were killed outright, with a third trapped under the cowcatcher. Part of the train was derailed during efforts to clear the line.

A few days earlier a train had struck and killed six of the animals.

Buffaloes and trains have never got on well together, and the Phalaborwa train crews now fear an organized ambush. They report that both times: "The herd did not move off, but stood their ground, took up a threatening attitude and bellowed."

The African buffalo is known to big game hunters as probably the fiercest animal in the continent. When 400 buffalo take up a threatening attitude and bellow, you don't just stand around.

The bidding:

1 NT	Pass	2 ♡	2 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣

By taking an inventory of his opponents' assets, South uncovered the rather unnatural play required to bring home his two spade contract.

East displayed an excessive streak of timidity during the auction. Although his holding contains only four high card points, the distribution is attractive and rates to produce several tricks opposite partner's notrump bid. East should be extremely reluctant to sell out so cheaply to the opposition. Observe that East and West can, in fact, score a game in hearts, thanks to the favorable position of the cards.

West opened the king of clubs and East signaled with the queen, which — according to convention — commands partner to underlead the ace on the next round. It is obvious that this play should not be made unless the player has the jack as well. West dutifully continued with a small club and East held the trick with the jack.

The shift was to the jack of hearts covered by declarer's queen and West's ace. The latter cashed the ace of clubs and exited with a heart. South was in with the king, and he proceeded to draw trumps in three rounds ending up in his hand.

The fate of the contract now hinged on how declarer handled the diamonds, for he must restrict his loss to one trick in that suit. The normal procedure would be to lead out to the dummy's queen with the intention of finessing the ten on the return, hoping that East held the jack of diamonds.

However, East had already shown up with four points in hearts and clubs, and West appeared to be marked with all of the remaining high cards—including the jack of diamonds—to account for the 16 points indicated by an opening bid of one notrump. South accordingly decided to make a somewhat unnatural play in diamonds.

He led the king from his hand to drive out West's ace. In order to avoid giving declarer a ruff and discard, West returned a small diamond. South ducked the lead around to his ten which won the trick, enabling him to claim his contract.

Car Stolen Wednesday Police Here Report

A 1958 model car was stolen early Wednesday when the driver left it parked at the curb for an hour, police reported.

Lawrence O. English, 2 E. Boulder St., told police he parked the car, which he borrowed from a friend, in the 100 block of East Colorado Avenue at 1 a.m. Wednesday. English said he took the keys from the car and was gone less than an hour, but when he returned the car was gone.

Owner of the car, James A. Parrett, couldn't be contacted, and English said he had borrowed the car many times in the past and was sure Parrett hadn't come and got the car without his knowing about it.

Budget Trimmers To Be Trimmed, Too

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Trying to trim a city budget is tough, but City Comptroller Hyman Pressman also hopes to make his budget trimmers trimmer — through exercise.

Pressman announced Wednesday that the coffee break in his department may soon give way to the biceps break, a daily 10-minute period emphasizing the body in the body politic.

Pressman says he and his office employes will begin their new program with simple exercises at first — twisting, bending and isometrics. Pushups may come later.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Dr. Cort Flint stresses the tremendous job of personal counseling which modern clergymen render. And his stress on films and Rating Scales to help PREVENT divorce, delinquency and school dropouts is superb, so scrapbook this case. And send for the sex booklet below.

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.

CASE U-459: Dr. Cort Flint is one of the nation's leading Baptist theologians and pulpit orators.

He and his charming wife are members of our Scientific Marriage Foundation Board, so after our meeting, they spent the night at our home.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "in the past nine years I have counseled in person with over 10,000 different persons.

"And this doesn't include second or third interviews with such troubled parishioners.

"If we could thus have our Scientific Marriage Foundation produce sound movies and Rating Scales for teen-agers, as well as married couples, we could render a tremendous service."

Actually, our clergymen have been doing yeoman service in trying to prevent divorce, dropouts and delinquency.

That's why we find that when a husband and wife are active together in the same church, they have as much as 50 times the likelihood of avoiding divorce.

For the churches are not old-fashioned in their moral emphasis.

On the contrary, the churches are ultra modern. It is old-fashioned to get drunk or gamble or indulge in illicit sexual affairs and trial marriage.

And I'm not joking. Noah got drunk. Jacob's daughter Dinah indulged in an illicit affair. King David's son raped the lovely Tamar. Jacob stole the birthright form his brother, Esau, etc.

Anybody who thus tries to coax a girl into premarital affairs is old fashioned.

It is ultra modern scientific facts that prove such immature action is unwise and morally stupid.

So the churches are ahead of the jet age and space ships!

For they are advocating morrules that have been evolved only after thousands of years of savage juvenility.

"But, Dr. Crane," many a coed has protested, "then why are boys from even good families so interested in heavy petting and sexual affairs?"

Well, girls, it isn't primarily because of their sex hunger.

Instead, it is chiefly a desire to inflate their own ego by feeling more important, meaning more adultish.

TV and movies, as well as salacious magainzes, have nowadays made it appear that he-men must smoke cigarets, swill down liquor and seduce girls.

Since most people react like sheep and just follow the leader, and since boys are doubly tattooed across the chest with the motto, "I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT," then they often try to smoke and drink and paw their girl friends, just to keep up with this false "image" of the modern male.

But girls can make boys feel far more important by deft compliments and other psychological strategy than by submitting to sexual exploration.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use it to win mates without gambling foolishly with sexual dynamite.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Pakistan Chief Devises New Political Plan

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Since 1958, Mohammed Ayub Khan has ruled Pakistan, first under martial law and since 1962 under a system of "basic democracies."

The "basic democracies" were devised by Ayub, a former commander-in chief of the Pakistani army, to replace the parliamentary system for which he says the 85 per cent illiterate Pakistanis are not ready and to establish rule under a strong president.

In effect, it strongly resembles French President Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic.

Elections naming 80,000 "basic democrats" who will in turn select the next president have just been completed.

These electors are expected to vote on Jan. 2, and what had been expected to be a "walk-away" victory for Ayub now may be something less than that.

The reason is a 7-year-old spinster who is the sister of the revered Mohammad Ali Jinnah, founder of Pakistan.

She is Fatima Jinnah around whom Ayub's heretofore scattered opposition has found an emotional rallying point.

She accuses Ayub of running a dictatorship more unbending than the Soviets'. The chief plank of her campaign is a return to parliamentary rule.

Auyb has ridiculed her both as an amateur politician and as a tool of his enemies, but his tactics so far only have enhanced the crowds she has been able to draw.

Ayub on the other hand has campaigned on his record of stability, a quality notably lacking in Pakistani politics prior to his bloodless coup in 1958.

He has expanded industry, instituted land reform and done much for reduction.

But, equally, he has not hesitated to jail rival politicians and to close down newspapers opposed to his policies.

And just as he misjudged Fatima Jinnah's appeal, so he seems to have misjudged other factors.

The regime has been plagued by strikes among university students demanding greater freedom for student political organizations. A number of students have been killed and students and professors severely manhandled.

The tough treatment is said to have cost Ayub votes.

Closer to home for the United States is the anti-U.S. tone of the campaign.

For different reasons, both sides have seen fit to deny any pro - American sentiments. A member of Ayub's ruling Pakistan Moslem League even declared loss of American friendship "good riddance."

This despite the fact that U.S. aid to Pakistan in 1964 amounted to more than $400 million and that Pakistan's economic development is dependent upon a continuation of that aid.

Good Economic News Seen in Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Good economic news was reported Wednesday in the fields of industrial production and employment.

The Federal Reserve Board said an upsurge in manufacture of automobiles sparked a sharp recovery in industrial production during November that pushed the board's index to a record level of 134.9.

Strikes in the auto industry during October had played a considerable role in dropping the production index from 134.0 in September to 131.7 in October. The index uses 100 for the 1957-59 average.

The return to work of auto workers boosted non-farm employment to a record level of 59.3 million in November, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

Sertoma Clubs Treat Center Youngsters

The three Colorado Springs Sertoma Clubs combined to host a Christmas party for 40 children of the Rocky Mountain Rehabilitation Center.

The event was held in the Colorado Springs Country Club and the children were treated to entertainment, refreshments and a visit from Santa Claus.

Highlighting the afternoon activities, to the delight of the boys and girls, was a visit from their friend, Blinky the Clown.

The Pikes Peak, Centennial, and Sunrise Sertomas furnished each child with a gift. The Country Club furnished refreshments and cartoons.

Reckless Drive Costs Man $100 in JP Court

King David Lucas, 49, 1019 E. Williamette Ave., was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Thursday for reckless driving Wednesday.

Howard Henry Smith, 32, 1055 N. 18th St., received a $10 fine for having no port of entry clearance Wednesday.

Cascade Blanket Zoning Put Under Advisement

Decision on the proposed "blanket zoning" for the Cascade area was put under advisement after a marathon debate at a meeting of the El Paso County Commissioners.

The original petition presented by Elizabeth McDowell, Ronald O. Harmon, Fern Johnson, John Brady and Walter Nashert to the El Paso County Planning Commission was recommended to the Commissioners for their approval. The recommendation was for a blanket R-1 residential zone to be created in Cascade, which has never been zoned.

The request was presented by persons who sought the protection of the area from the encroachment of trailer courts, roadside stands and other businesses they deem undesirable.

At the meetin of the Commissioners Thursday, Bud Isham, planning director for El Paso County, stated that there was not a zone in the zoning resolution that adequately filled the zoning needs for that particular area.

facturing" a zone to fill the

"The set-back requirements are unfeasible in mountain property," he said, "Especially when many of the lots are measured straight up."

Of all the possible zones, said Isham, R-1 zoning provided the least number of detrimental aspects.

The area under consideration, he said, has an assessed valuation of $2,918,230, which, he said, is pretty high for an entirely unprotected area.

There were sufficient deed covenants put on the land, he said, but they have not been strictly enforced, and the current interest in zoning merits some action toward the zoning of the area.

He said the Commissioners will have to set about "manufacturing" a zone to fill the need for this area.

R-1 zoning, as a temporary expedient, he stressed, will have no effect whatsoever on businesses and structures already in existence.

After the establishment of R-1 zoning, Isham urged a complete zone plan study, and the appointment of a representative on the County Board of Adjustment who knows the area, rather than a "downtown bureaucrat" unfamiliar with the area's problems.

Isham emphasized that zoned or unzone, the area is still subject to El Paso County regulations, and he said that much of the present confusion has arisen as a result of poor enforcement of these regulations.

Fern Johnson, real estate saleswoman and Cascade resident, led off the ensuing debate by deploring the fact that promises she made to clients about the continuing high value of the area have not been kept because of lack of zoning protection.

She quoted one land owner as saying, "To hell with my neighbors, I'll do what I want with my land!"

Most of the pro spokesman echoed Mrs. Johnson's feelings and statements.

For those opposed to the zoning, Howard Wilson, president of the Chipita Park Co., objected to the inclusion of Chipita Park in the zoning request. He maintained that the set-back requirements would make it impossible to develop much of the land held by his company and would tend to "inhibit the normal population growth".

Debate continued for two and a half hours on the exclusion of Chipita Park, and the advisability of Cascade zoning.

Isham noted that the area of possible deletion amounts to less than one per cent of the area under consideration.

The Commissioners agreed that the matter needed a great deal more study, and finally placed it "under advisement".

In other action, the Commissioners approved four petitions and tabled one.

The petition by the Cimarron Land Development Co. to change 30 acres north of Highway 24 and east of Colorado Springs from R-1 residential zoning to R-4 residential was tabled.

The petition by Patio Town House Inc. to change R-3 residential to R-2 residential zoning was approved. The area measures 250' x 450' and lies near the B St. entrance to Ft. Carson.

William Rhodes, attorney, spoke on behalf of Robert G. Neill to petition for the change of an R-1 residential district to an R-2 residential district for the construction of "garden - type" apartment houses. The area consists of 5.9 acres north of Oxford Lane and west of Wolfe Ave.

It was brought out that the access roads would have to be expanded, to adequately serve the new construction, but it was agreed that the roads needed expansion anyway, and the petition was approved.

The petition of John and Vera Ceresa to change an A-1 garden home district to a C-4 neighborhood business district, and to change an R-1 residential district to an R-2 residential district was approved by the Commissioners. This area consists of 46.82 acres south of Security and west of Widefield.

A petition by William D. Tudor Jr., Alice H. Tudor, Connie D. Gerdes and C. V. Le Force to change an A-1 garden home district to an R-1 residential district located north of the Templeton Gap Floodway was approved. The area measures 60.01 acres.

Goodwill Industries Will Host Dinner

Goodwill Industries of Colorado Springs will host its handicapped men and women at a Christmas dinner.

The dinner will be 7 p.m. today in the Alamo Hotel. About 75 persons are expected to attend, Kenneth Olson, executive director, said.

The annual Christmas party for families of handicapped men will be 2 p.m. Sunday in the organization's sheltered workshop, 2307 W. Colorado Ave. The event is sponsored each year by the Women's Auxiliary of Goodwill Industries.

TOKYO—Residents here favor the Pacific Isles for vacations.

Everything Set For Security Ball Saturday

The decorations are up ,the band signed on, and everything is ready for a Saturday night ball in Security.

Widefield High School is the place, 9 p.m., the time, and the event is the eighth annual Firemen's Ball put on by the Security Village Volunteer Fire Department.

The ball is staged each year by the fire fighters as a treasury-building affair, with tickets going for a donation of $1 each.

The Cleveland Indians will play three exhibitions against minor league teams in Mexico City to start their spring training games next March 9, 10 and 11. After the third game they will return to their Tucson, Ariz., base.

Tickets will be available at the door the night of the ball, and they offer purchasers a night of music, dancing and an opportunity to take home a door prize.

On the gift list this year are a dish washer, food blender and a clock radio.

Robber Loses $5 in Holdup Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — The Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. is $5 richer today because a man tried to rob one of its Manhattan banks.

The would-be robber put a $5 bill on the counter of teller Agnes De Martini Thursday and handed her a note reading: "This is a stickup. Give me all the money. Don't try to be a hero."

"Stickup!" screamed Miss De Martini.

The robber fled, minus his $5.

Western Allies Seek Approach On Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany meet here next month to try to work out a new approach to Russia on the unification of Germany.

The meeting was announced by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the White House Thursday night after he and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had reported to President Johnson on this week's talks among allied foreign and defense ministers in Paris.

Administration officials are reported hopeful the discussions will lead to an easing of differences between France and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

Rusk had two conferences with French President Charles de Gaulle about which he reported to Johnson. McNamara conferred with French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer. Messmer and he agreed on a coordination of French nuclear weapons targeting with NATO plans.

The McNamara-Messmer understanding is the basis for hope that relations with France may be improved. The accord indicates a possible new trend in French policy, which has been marked in recent years by declining French cooperation with NATO.

Rusk said of the meeting on German reuniifcation that the four foreign ministers had agreed in Paris they should explore the possibilities of "some further initiative" with the Russians on the issue.

At the same time, he said there has been no indication of an active Soviet interest in trying to settle the problems of the division of Germany.

Presumably the West German government of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, which faces elections next year, is urgently concerned with a new diplomatic move on an issue of paramount importance in West Germany.

One of the principal topics in the Paris discussions was the problem of organizing a nuclear weapons force among as many allied countries as are willing to participate. The NATO ministers agreed to continue exchanging views" on this problem, which has sharply divided the alliance.

Officials said it was tentatively agreed among some of the interested countries to hold high level talks, probably among deputy foreign ministers, on the nuclear weapons issue in Europe early next year. That will allow time for continuing direct talks between Britain and West Germany.

The West German government has strongly supported a U.S. proposal for a surface fleet armed with polaris missiles.

The British and Germans are now talking about problems involved in the British proposals.

Man Who Spent 64 Years In Prison Finds Freedom

By HAROLD V. STREETER

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) — At a sprightly 85, Richard Honeck finds excitement in everything from supermarkets to shaving.

One of his many happy chores is to walk each day at 11 a.m. from his niece's trailer home to the entrance of the trailer park and pick up the mail.

Recently, there was a letter from Ross V. Randolph, warden of Illinois' Menard Penitentiary where Honeck served 64 years for the murder of a former school teacher.

"As Christmas nears, I am reminded of our pleasant experiences of nearly a year ago when you were making preparations to go to California," the warden wrote.

"I would be happy to hear from you sometime when you have time to write. I would be interested in knowing what you are doing and how your niece, Mrs. Clara Orth, is getting along."

The warden's curiosity is shared by hundreds. Christmas cards are piling up at the Orth home from all over the United States and as far away as Germany. Friends Honeck never met and never will are asking about him.

The answer:

He's just fine. Weighs two pounds more than his 120 when he left prison. And that despite two operations for hernia and prostate trouble.

Honeck's mind, somewhat confused in his first days of freedom a year ago, is sharp. Honeck, his niece and her son nightly play a glorified sort of poker game involving five dice.

"You have to think quick and make up your mind because of so many choices," says Honeck's grand-nephew, William Scharf.

"Uncle Richard beats the socks off of us. Yesterday he won 12 straight games."

The simplest things cause Honeck to marvel. This week in a supermarket he poured coffee beans in a grinder, and stood open-mouthed as the electrical apparatus sped the grounds into a paper bag.

"Imagine that," exulted the man who recalled the hand-grinding process when he entered prison in 1899.

He never passes the shelves of sliced bread without shaking his head incredulously. His main job in prison was slicing bread.

"Uncle Richard could spend hours in a supermarket," laughs his niece.

Honeck covets his independence. Ruefully he allows Mrs. Orth to wash his socks.

"But he insists on washing his own underwear," she chuckles.

"Why, I wouldn't know. But I let him."

Shaving still baffles him. In prison, the barber did it. Instead of lathering one side of his face for his safety razor, he applies a blob about the size of a dollar, shaves that and then repeats in a slow process.

He's salted away $400 in a savings account — all of it mailed by persons whose hearts were touched by reading his story.

"One sent a check for $50," says his grand-nephew.

"Told him just to do whatever he wanted to with it."

Honeck was astounded on his last visit to the bank to note interest had been added. The very idea of paying someone just to leave their money there!

Honeck does more than read the morning newspaper. He digests it.

He refuses to be a burden. He keeps his bedroom tidy. He answers his mail.

Recently he climbed atop the Oakland home of Mrs. Orth's daughter and helped rip off old shingles. He painted all the house outside trim himself. And he laid bricks.

"Just wanted to prove to myself I could still do a full day's work," he boasted.

His old prison life is seldom mentioned.

Recently one trailer occupant said to a neighbor, "Do you realize we have a convict living in this park?"

"You should have seen what happened," says Mrs. Orth.

"For days nobody would even speak to her they were so mad. She had to learn the hard way what everybody else already knows. Richard is a man who has found life can be sweet. And he makes it that way for everybody he meets."

Pressure Seen For Settlement Of U.N. Dues

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressure mounted today on the United States and the Soviet Union to settle their dispute over U. N. peacekeeping dues.

The 59-nation Asian-African group, impatient over the delay in General Assembly business under the no-vote truce, was reported determined to take matters in its own hands unless the big powers act quickly.

The group is pushing the idea of a "rescue fund" to which the Soviet block could contribute without abandoning its official refusal to pay any peacekeeping costs. This also would head off the challenge to the Assembly voting rights of delinquent members which the United States has threatened.

Informed sources said a move was under way to have the Assembly endorse such a fund by acclamation before Christmas, then adjourn until Jan. 11 to give Secretary-General U Thant and the United States and Russia more time to try to reach a settlement.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told a newsman Russia would contribute to such a fund only if the Assembly unanimously adopts a resolution to set it up.

"We cannot go on vague promises," he said. "First we must have the resolution, then we will make a contribution, and there must be agreement in every quarter that not one will vote against the resolution."

Fedorenko has insisted that any Soviet payment to the fund, no matter how big or small, must clear the books of all peacekeeping debts, which the Russians claim are illegal. Although he has said how much Russia would put up, he was reported ready to give Thant a figure.

The United States was said to oppose any suggestion that a token payment would clear the Soviet Union or any other delinquent member of past debts even though it would avert a challenge to its Assembly vote.

Soviet arrears for 1962-63 total $52.6 million. If no payment is made by Dec. 31, the debt will mount to about $70 million.

Unless some solution is reached that would put the Assembly back on a voting basis by Dec. 31, the world organization faces an empty treasury and the Security Council is in danger of having to suspend business.

By that date the secretary-general's proposed $100 million budget is supposed to be acted on and four nonpermanent members of the council should be elected.

Sue Lyon, Ex-Husband Lose Case in Court

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Small claims court in Los Angeles has granted a judgment to the former landlord of actress Sue Lyon and her ex-husband, Hampton Fancher III, on grounds they owe him $189.32 rent because they moved out without giving a stipulated 30-day notice.

The 18-year-old star of the film "Lolita" and her 26-year-old actor-husband were divorced nine days ago.

Demo Greeting Marked With 'Goldwater'

ATLANTA (AP) — Democratic Gov. Carl E. Sanders' Christmas cards were turning into collector's items today as investigators tried to solve the mystery of the name "Goldwater" in tiny letters on the cards.

The governor was miffed, the student who created the etching of the Georgian governor's mansion was puzzled and there was talk of disciplinary action if a culprit could be found.

The "Goldwater" was discovered Thursday etched among tree branches on the front of an estimated 12,000 cards mailed by the staunch Democrat whose state, for the first time, supported a Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, last November.

Sanders displayed a mixture of amusement and irritation when he discovered what had happened, an aide said.

But the governor emphasized the additional lettering was so small it did not change the intent of the card one bit. "It still says Merry Christmas from the Sanders family to their friends," he pointed out.

PARIS—The French government has agreed to loan money to two African nations.

New Cabinet Sought In Israel Crisis

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The central committee of Israel's dominant Mapai party decided Thursday night that acting Premier Levi Eshkol should form a new cabinet similar to the one he has headed for the past 18 months.

Eshkol resigned Monday in a dispute with former Premier David Ben-Gurion, Mapai's elder statesman, over a 1954 security incident known as the Lavon affair. The Mapai committee also supported Eshkol's rejection of Ben-Gurion's demand that a new investigation be made of the Lavon affair.

Eshkol said in a broadcast Thursday night a new coalition government could be established in less than a week and would hold office until elections next November.

Corned Beef Blamed For Typhoid Epidemic

LONDON (AP) — A government inquiry today said Argentine corned beef probably caused the typhoid epidemic in Aberdeen, Scotland, last spring. It also accused the city's medical officer of exaggerating the gravity of the outbreak.

The inquiry commission's 74-page report criticized the British Ministry of Health, saying it could have recalled corned beef stocks known to have been cooled in unchlorinated water.

It said the likely origin of the typhoid was a can of corned beef manufactured at Rosario, Argentina, in 1963 or early 1964. The chlorination plant there, it said, had been out of action for more than a year.

The epidemic infected more than 400 persons, most of them in Aberdeen. The commission praised the medical officer, Dr. Ian MacQueen, for the speed with which he traced the source but said he exaggerated the number of people endangered.

As a result, it said, the epidemic was treated by news media as a national disaster.

'We could not have checked the outbreak so rapidly without the full cooperation of press, radio and television staff," Dr. MacQueen replied.

Check Charges Filed Against Two

Check charges were filed against two defendants in District Court.

The first, Leland D. Martinez, 18, 1849 Alpine Dr. was accused of fictitious check and alleged to have issued a $50 fictitious check Dec. 5 with intent to defraud Furr Food and the Colorado Commercial Bank.

Walter Lee Scott, 21, 96 Hallam Place, was charged with forgery. According to the information filed against him, he wrote a $30 check Nov. 30 with intent to defraud Furrs Foods. The check was alleged to have been signed "John Walsh."

Bond was set at $1,500 each in both cases by Judge David W. Enoch.

Color pictures in 50 seconds
Beautiful full-color pictures are ready to enjoy just 50 seconds after you snap the shutter (and they don't even have to be coated).

Black-and-white pictures in 10 seconds
Crisp, brilliant black-and-white pictures are ready in only 10 seconds. Development takes place outside this new camera.

New pack loads in 7 seconds
A revolutionary new film pack makes loading simpler than ever before. Just open the back of the camera, slip the pack inside, pull a tab and you're ready.

Color flash pictures automatically
The electronic shutter can read the light of a flashbulb and set the correct exposure automatically — all within the duration of the flash! No more special guides or settings for direct flash pictures.

Automatic time exposures
The electronic shutter can actually make automatic time exposures for you up to several seconds long. Just press the button and when the shutter has measured enough light it closes itself.

Black-and-white pictures without flash
If you can read a paper comfortably you can make black-and-white pictures without flash or wink-light. Pictures have a natural look, are quick and easy.

Weighs less than many 35mm cameras
This is the smallest, lightest camera Polaroid has ever made — lighter even than many 35mm's!
